Zoning Articles May Draw Voters To Annual Meeting

By Sue Aucella Deacon

If anything is to attract Andover voters to annual town meeting April 2 — besides curiosity about the new J. Everett Collins Center, where the meeting will be held — it will probably be a zoning article.

The 66-article warrant includes an assortment of requests for amendments to the zoning bylaw — and little else that seems likely to draw citizens to the annual meeting.

Voters will, however, be asked to appropriate thousands of dollars to fund public improvements, including a new Riverina Road sewage pumping station, an expansion of the Lowell Street water treatment plant, a new Wood Hill water distribution tank, and new water mains in three West Andover roadways.

But rezoning proposals have won the greatest attention to date. Among the requests town meeting will be asked to consider: two condominium developments, which both require changing single-family residential zones to apartment zones.

The Planning Board will hold public hearings on those proposals, one for a 12.5-acre Shawsheen Village site (currently zoned Single Residence A) and another for a 33-acre West Andover site off North Street (now zoned Single Residence C), next Tuesday night at the municipal office building.

Another private article will request the rezoning of 42-44 Elm St. to general business zoning, to allow John Caron of the Caron Funeral Home, North Andover, to open a funeral home at that address. The site is currently owned by Dennis Doherty, and zoned Single Residence A.

The planners will address that article during a public hearing next Wednesday night.

In a private zoning request that may meet some opposition, the Knights of Columbus will ask voters to rezone their six-acre parcel off Frontage Road from Single Residence C to Industrial A.

The same request was defeated by a recent town meeting when neighbors spoke against the rezoning proposal. The K of C tried unsuccessfully to sell the land with its current zoning several months ago.

A similar article seeks industrial zoning for part of a site located off Route 133 on the Tewksbury town line. The portion of the site located in Andover includes 1.5-acres owned by G & B Realty Trust, and is now zoned Single Residence C.

The planning board will hold public hearings on both the Frontage Road and Route 133 zoning requests next Tuesday night.

Two articles recycled from last year's annual meeting would change parking requirements. One would eliminate a credit that reduces the number of spaces required if buildings are located near a public parking space; the other would exempt building owners from adding new spaces when they alter or expand buildings, provided they would not need more than six spaces to serve the new area. Both proposals were defeated last spring.

Another zoning article defeated last year and reappearing on this year's warrant would allow pre-1941 single-family houses in Single Residence C zones to be converted into multiple-family dwellings, with a special permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals. Such conversions are not allowed under the current zoning laws.

And town meeting will consider a group of three zoning changes concerning home occupations. These articles could affect a great many Andover residents, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony has indicated, and he has advised the selectmen to consider the articles "very carefully" before taking a position.

The first of these articles would add a definition of "customary home occupation" to the zoning laws; the second would em-

Andover High To Compete In Berklee Jazz Fest

The Andover High School Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Steve Piermarini of Lowell, has registered to participate in the 16th Annual Jazz Ensemble Festival at Boston's Berklee College of Music on Saturday, March 10.

The festival has provided a spirited showcase and an invaluable educational experience for more than 20,000 student musicians and music educators. Three classes of competition provide a forum for participating schools encompassing all levels of size and experience. Ensembles are welcome to perform on a non-competitive basis as well.

A full complement of instrumental clinics, specialized workshops and concert demonstrations, open to all, will be conducted by members of Berklee's internationally renowned faculty, utilizing the college's professionally equipped recording studios, synthesizer lab and film sound studio.

The day's events will culminate at the Berklee Performance Center with finalists vying for best band trophies, citation plaques and tuition scholarships amounting to $29,000.

School Offers Upbeat Look At Adolescence

All parents are invited and encouraged to attend a symposium on "The Adolescent—An Upbeat Look," communicating with, supporting and understanding issues of adolescents, on Thursday, March 1, from 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the DeCesare Media Center, West Junior High School.

In an open discussion format, parents will have an opportunity to share strategies and concerns with Howard Shaffer, Ph.D., assistant professor, Harvard University and chief psychologist of the North Charles Institute for the Addictions; Michael Finkle, Ph.D., coordinator of Outpatient Services, Greater Lawrence Psychological Center; and Kim Gilbert, Ph.D., staff psychologist, Greater Lawrence Psychological Center.

The symposium is sponsored by the West Junior High School Parents Advisory Council.

Completes Internship

Bonnie A. Barber, a senior at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, has just completed a semester as an intern in the UMass/Amherst Legal Services Office. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Barber, Brady Loop, Andover.

Internship students earn academic credit and gain career experience by spending a semester working in a professional setting. The UMass Office of Internships places approximately 600 students a year in internships all over the country and supervises the academic aspects of their work experience.

Barber was employed as legal assistant to the senior staff attorney in the Legal Services Office. She is working towards a bachelor's degree with individual concentration in law for the developmentally disabled.

Barber graduated from Andover High School in 1980.

Town House Topics

Restaurateur To Seek Liquor License

The Lexington restaurateur who hopes to open a French restaurant called The Duck of Andover, located in what is now Lundgren's Funeral Home, will ask the Board of Selectmen for a license to sell alcoholic beverages during a public hearing next Monday night.

Mita F. Feding van Berkhout of Winchester has petitioned the selectmen for the license, and is expected to appear before the board at 7:30 Monday night, Feb. 27, at the new town offices.

According to the license application, the restaurant would include two floors in the 18 Elm St. building, with a lounge and four dining rooms on the first floor. The second floor would include three dining rooms.

Donald Lundgren hopes to retire and sell his funeral home building to Berkhout later this year. The home is located in a business zone, and no rezoning would be necessary for the restaurant.

Storage Permit, Town Budget On Agenda

A public hearing on a request for aboveground and underground storage is included on the Board of Selectmen's agenda for next Monday night, when the board will meet at 7:30 in the new town offices on Bartlett Street.

During the public hearing, Standard Duplicating Machines Corp. will ask the board for a permit to store 15,000 gallons of methanol fluid aboveground (in cans), and 5,000 gallons of 2 oil underground on their property at 1 Gillette Way.

The board is also expected to continue reviewing the town manager's budget recommendations for fiscal 1985, as well as articles on the annual town meeting warrant.

Two Polls A Possibility In November

The November '84 election will be "one heck of a difficult day" at Andover High School, the selectmen chairman predicted last week, when large numbers of voters are expected to head for the high school polls to cast their presidential ballots.

But there is no plan at present to provide more than one polling place for Andover voters.

Town Clerk Elden Salter last week told the board he has thought of using two polling places, one on the east side and one on the west side of town — but fears the idea would be unworkable, in part because many voters do not know their own precincts.

But Town Manager Kenneth Mahony noted that polls could conceivably be set up downstairs in the new municipal office center (formerly East Junior High), where there is plenty of room.

Whether or not town officials come up with a two-poll plan, Chairman Gerald Silverman suggested that voters who can vote during the day do so — and leave the evening hours for those who can't visit the polls until after five.

School Committee, Planning Board In Session

Both the School Committee and Planning Board will meet next week, as town officials continue to gear up for annual town meeting.

The School Committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night in the new municipal office building on Bartlett Street. Committee members will continue budget discussions — and possibly wrap up this year's budget deliberations.

And the planners will also meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the municipal offices. A major item on their agenda: public hearings on two proposed condominium developments, one in Shawsheen Village and another near River Road. Both proposals require zoning changes.

First Aid Classes Offered

The Department of Community Services will hold a 10-week combined CPR and Standard First Aid and Personal Safety class beginning Thursday, March 1. This class is a perfect opportunity for lifeguards and camp counselors to prepare for summer jobs and for parents of small children.

Learn how to identify a heart attack victim and how to assist in reviving them, how to free an obstructed airway, identify and treat shock and first aid treatment for common emergencies.

Separate Red Cross certificates will be issued upon successful completion of the program. Students interested in First Aid certification only must have previously completed a CPR course. There will be charge for books and supplies. Register at the DCS office in the new town hall on Bartlett Street.

Reading Group Is Forming

West Parish Church will offer a reading group for all interested adults in the community beginning February 26 at 8 p.m. and continuing on the last Monday of each month. Led informally by Graham L.N. Ward, senior minister, and held at the Parish House, 129 Reservation Road, Andover, the group will explore the personal, social and political aspects of an individual's interaction with his society and environment. To initiate this exploration, Rev. Ward has chosen two contemporary works: a novel, "The Color Purple" by Alica Walker and a social commentary by John Naisbitt, "Megatrends." Future titles will be selected by participants. For further information, contact the church office between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Dean's List

Peter F. Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Dunn, 37 Old County Road, Andover, has been named to the Dean's List at the George Washington University, Columbian College of Arts and Sciences, Washington, D.C. for the fall semester with a 4.0 average. To qualify for Dean's List, a student must carry a minimum of 15 credits per semester, earn at least a 3.5 cum and is allowed only one B.

Dunn, a sophomore, graduated from Brooks School, North Andover, in 1982 and is a pre-med student with a major in Zoology. He is a member of the Epsilon Beta Chapter of ETA Sigma Phi National Classics Honor Society, the Pre-Med Society and is a teaching assistant in advanced Human Physiology.

Steamship Design

John Waterhouse, curator of the Hart Nautical collections of the MIT Museum, will deliver a slide lecture entitled "The Dittybag: Odds and Ends of Steamship Design" at the Peabody Museum of Salem, East India Square, Salem. He will speak on the naval architecture of steam powered vessels. There is no charge above museum admission; members free.

Mass. College Of Pharmacy

Jo-Ann Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Dunn, 37 Old County Road, Andover, graduated December 11, 1983, from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy with a B.S. degree in Pharmacy.

Dunn, a 1979 graduate of Andover High School, completed the five-year program in four and a half years. During her last year she was the first student from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy selected to participate in a new program initiated between the College of Pharmacy and Tufts Veterinary School of Medicine at Grafton where she completed her hospital externship.

Pending Massachusetts state board certification, Dunn will join her father in the family business in Melrose.

DR. DOUGLAS GAMMON PSYCHOLOGIST

Have you ever noticed that people are a lot more hesitant about admitting psychological problems than they are physical problems? We are not held responsible for most physical problems but psychological problems are another matter. Because we often have difficulty putting our finger on the cause of our problems others often believe we can get rid of the problem by using their solution or by taking a vacation or by talking to friends or family. Sometimes this kind of advice works, however, if you find you still have the same problem after trying their advice you might consider a professionally trained problem solver.

If you are anxious, stressed on the job, depressed, fearful, experience memory problems, have difficulty relating to others, have marriage or family problems, overeat, or have other personal and/or career problems you may wish to consider an initial evaluation session, without charge, with a licensed doctoral clinical psychologist.

For additional information and/or to arrange for an initial session contact Dr. Douglas Gammon at 470-3542 in Andover.

Arms Control Discussion To Be Program Topic

Greater Boston Physicians for Social Responsibility will sponsor "The Road to Arms Control," an educational program, at West Junior High school, Shawsheen Road, Andover, on Saturday, March 3, from noon to 4 p.m.

The program will begin with a showing of "The Day After Trinity: J. Robert Oppenheimer and the Atomic Bomb," a film which focuses on events preceding July 16, 1945, the day the first atomic bomb shattered the desert sky over New Mexico. Sarah Doering, Master of Divinity and Hospice worker, will deliver a commentary following the film. Next will be a panel discussion on ways to control the nuclear arms race featuring Congressman Edward Markey, proponent of the nuclear freeze resolution in the House of Representatives, Prof. Albert Carnesale, academic dean of Harvard's John F. Kennedy School of Government and co-author of "Living with Nuclear Weapons," and Paul F. Walker, national security analyst of Klein Walker Associates.

Moderating the panel will be Gail Harris, co-anchor of WGBH 10:00 news. Dr. Bill Caldicott, associate professor of radiology at Harvard Medical School and coordinator of the national speakers' bureau for Freeze Voter 1994, will give the closing remarks.

To Solo In Philharmonic Concert

Elizabeth Ann Larson, 12, of North Andover, will be featured in the Bruch Violin Concerto in G minor in a concert by the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of George Monseur, on Friday, March 9, at 8 p.m. at Lawrence High School.

Larson is the pupil of Mary Lou Speaker Churchill, principal second violinist with the BSO. She started her studies at two years old, gave her first solo recital at six, was soloist with the Milwaukee Symphony at seven; and with various Illinois community orchestras at eight.

Larson won the Harry Dubbs Concerto Competition in May 1983. She also performed with the Harvard/Radcliffe Orchestra in a series of youth concerts. In June 1983 she soloed with the Boston Pops, under Harry Ellis Dickson. Most recently she performed the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto with the Brookline Symphony Orchestra, under George Monseur.

Additional players supplement the Philharmonic for the full symphonic sound the dramatic "Pathetique" Symphony demands at the opening of the program.

Elizabeth Ann Larson

Eleanor Norton To Lecture At Academy Symposium

Prof. Eleanor Holmes Norton, chairperson of the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission from 1977-81, will give Phillips Academy's 53rd Alfred E. Stearns Lecture on Sunday, Feb. 26, in George Washington Hall at 8 p.m. She will speak on "Race, Ethnicity and Gender". This free lecture will be the culminating event of Phillips Academy's 1984 Headmaster's Symposium, a lecture/film series on Race Relations in America entitled "The American Dilemma Revisited."

An attorney and professor of law at Georgetown Law Center in Washington, D.C., Norton is an authority on affirmative action, comparable worth, employer-employee relations and other social and economic issues. She has been cited by rights activists and business executives for her ability to affect change.

Norton became the first woman to chair the U.S. EEOC and served there for four years. She is best known for her work in developing equal opportunity law policy. Prior to this, Norton had held a similar position as chairperson of the New York City Commission on Human Rights. She was educated at Antioch College, Yale Graduate School and Yale Law School and co-authored "Sex Discrimination and Law: Causes and Remedies." Last week Phillips Academy students heard Clarence Pendleton, President Reagan's appointee as chairman of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, question whether government should regulate race relations.

As EEOC chair, Norton administered Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, the Equal Pay Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act and Section 501 of the Rehabilitation Act covering handicapped individuals. She is recognized as an authority on race, sex and other aspects of employment discrimination and on race relations and women's issues and has spoken out to assess the policy changes of the Reagan administration in these fields.

The Alfred E. Stearns Foundation was established in 1926 by Thomas Cochran, an alumnus and benefactor, in order to bring distinguished speakers annually to the student body and to honor the man who was Phillips Academy's headmaster for most of the first third of the 20th century.

Community Collaborative Unites Andover High, Business and Industry

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The day-to-day routines of a high-school senior and a high-tech executive are not very likely to bring those two people together — even if they both happen to live in the same town.

That senior could very well graduate from Andover High with little understanding of what goes on, just across town, in an industry that could hold future career possibilities. And that executive could continue to manage an industry with little understanding of what goes on, just across town, in a school that could be turning out potential employees.

Changing this non-communication into mutual understanding is the goal of the Andover Industry Business/Community Education Collaborative, which grew out of Andover High School's Project Discovery (a career education program) nearly two years ago.

"Our primary goal is to help the faculty and students understand the world of work, and to enhance career awareness and educational planning," AHS counselor and Project Discovery Coordinator Ruby Easton explains.

A reciprocal goal is to encourage the community, including business and industry, to understand and appreciate the issues confronted by public secondary education — and just what a public secondary school looks like in the '80s.

And beneath all that, she adds, "is the critical issue of shared responsibility for the education of youth in a community."

Which means that since the program began in the spring of 1982, members of Andover's business and industrial community have come into Andover High School to talk to students and teachers about the "real world" that lies outside the school walls.

And at the same time, those representatives of the working world have stepped inside public school walls for perhaps the first time since their own student days.

A closer coupling of the world of education and the world of business can only benefit both worlds, according to Albert Belle Isle, president of Custom Silicon, Inc. of Lowell and one of the collaborative's first members. The collaborative offers educators and executives a way to share their "very different viewpoints," he says.

Dr. Belle Isle believes that education must shift its focus "from learning facts and specific knowledge, to learning how to learn," to provide industry with "continued access to a skilled, trainable work force in the future." Today's most highly-educated professionals must constantly strive to keep up with changing technologies, he points out — and the need to know how to learn can only increase in the years to come.

Peter K.W. Wu, principal scientist for Physical Sciences, Inc., an Andover high-tech research firm, says his company joined the collaborative as a way to "make a contribution to the school system. Many of us live in Andover and would like to help out.

"It's a two-way street," he adds. "In general, our industry requires new blood — it's a cycle. If we can influence some young man or young woman in high school to be geared toward science and math, who knows where they could end up? A company like ours needs new talent. It's a mutual benefit."

Hewlett-Packard of Andover also joined the collaborative because it seemed "an excellent vehicle to promote kinds of communication between industry and education," personnel representative Lorraine Leavitt says. "We hope that by bringing various programs to the schools, students will be better prepared for life in the 'real' world and making their career choices."

"And as an employer, we are interested in the preparedness of students for careers," she continues. "Eventually, in some direct way we will gain as an employer by having students more aware of what career opportunities there are."

Along with representatives of 17 local businesses and industries, the education collaborative includes Andover High's Parent Advisory Council, the entire staff of program advisors, and three student representatives.

This year the program has also grown to include representatives of Bradford College and Merrimack College, bringing higher education into the picture. David Haselkorn, assistant to the president at Bradford College, is one of the collaborative's newer members — "an admiring observer."

The college can "lend a post-secondary perspective to the collaborative," he notes, and share ideas and educational resources as well. "I'm extremely impressed by the community spirit on the collaborative, and the organization of it," Haselkorn says. "It's made a fantastic start, and I hope Bradford will become more involved in the future."

The collaborative now includes a total of 36 members — and is actively seeking new members from throughout Andover's business and industry community.

Collaborative members have broken down into several task forces to concentrate on specific issues and develop school programs. Ms. Easton says, and the work of one task force has led to one of the collaborative's most solid success stories.

Last year, it was the collaborative's computer task force — with Peter Wu as a member — that helped convince town meeting to appropriate $150,000 for the first phase of a "computer literacy" program in the schools. The remaining two phases will be funded in future years (town meeting will not, however, be asked for further funding this year).

Business and industry members of the collaborative have contributed some funding and used equipment to the school department, but their greatest contribution to date has been time and energy: in such forms as technical advice, the planning of career days, and workshops and industry tours for faculty.

Sam Kjellman of Parker Brothers describes a design for a new video game to a high school geometry class during a career day on design engineering at Andover High School last week.

Andover High School junior Raymond Norris examines a design for a new video game during a career day session, exploring one of the career possibilities that could grow from his mathematics studies.

Townsman Photos by Carl Russo

The collaborative has led to more internship opportunities for students, and Ms. Easton hopes more businesses and industries will offer internships to high school students in the future.

But one less tangible and equally valuable result of the group, she says, is that high school teachers now "feel perfectly comfortable in calling people at Physical Sciences, or Hewlett-Packard" — or any other local firm in the collaborative — with their classroom-oriented questions and concerns.

"We are in the forefront of science," Peter Wu says of his company. "It's beneficial for teachers to see the frontier of science, the new things happening. That interaction then hopefully filters down to the students."

This spring, the collaborative is focusing on a series of career days within each academic department. Ms. Easton says, with career discussions tied to what students are currently learning in the classroom.

A series of four math and science workshops for girls will begin next week, for example: Women professionals active in the math/science field will meet with female students and their parents to talk about education and career possibilities.

In April, a "Focus on Women" program will bring a dozen career women into the school (including a homemaker) to "expand career awareness for girls," the counselor says.

Alternatives to College will be discussed in a late-April workshop (more than 20 percent of the AHS student population does not go on to college, Ms. Easton points out).

And later this spring, the collaborative will hold a "simulated job search" day, when local personnel professionals will show students how to apply for a job — and successfully survive an interview.

Collaborative

Student reaction to the work of the collaborative has been "very positive," the counselor says. "The future is very much on their minds. They need to know where to go for help and accurate information about college, or getting their first jobs. They need the skills to make the decisions that are involved."

Andover can take a closer look at what the collaborative has been doing, and education at Andover High in general, during a Community Visiting Day at the high school, 7:15 to 10 a.m. Thursday, March 15.

Classroom visits and a panel discussion will be among the day's events. The public is invited; however, reservations are necessary. (For further information or to make a reservation, contact the high school counseling office.)

"Communication is the critical issue," Ruby Easton says, and members of the collaborative "have gained an appreciation for each other. They've felt that they have been heard."

"We may have an industry person saying, 'Our concern is dealing with the work ethic.' And then we may have a teacher say, 'This is the way it really is in education — we're dealing with shortages all over the place and a society that doesn't value teachers as it once did.' Just to have somebody listen to that is important."

The counselor remarks that she has taken "enthusiastic pleasure" in finding that "business and industry truly are interested in helping out. It has taken an intense amount of energy, a lot of behind-the-scenes urging and encouraging," she admits. "The goals of education and the goals of business and industry are not always the same."

"But we do have in common the community of youth. We have a stake in the future of these young people. And that is our common ground to work on."

Life Drawing

The Merrimack Valley Arts League, Inc. will offer an instructional life drawing session on Wednesday, Feb. 29, March 7, 14 and 21 at Phillips Hall, Phillips Academy campus from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Energy Grant Offered

New England Telephone is offering grants of up to $1,000 to help small, non-profit social or cultural organizations conserve energy and save money.

Public Relations Manager Cynthia Austin said, "This marks the sixth consecutive year that New England Telephone will offer the grants."

"The grant program was developed during the 'energy crunch' when the high price of heating fuel created financial hardships for many non-profit agencies. The program has been so successful that we've continued it each year since."

Grants will be awarded to aid successful applicants in making energy-related improvements, such as installing storm windows, repairing furnaces and buying caulking and weatherstripping materials. A total of $40,000 will be donated by New England Telephone.

To be eligible for the grant program, the applicant must own the building, have a long-term lease or have control of the building for an extended period of time.

Applications must be received by May 1.

For further information or applications, contact Austin at New England Telephone.

Anderson Named Chairman

C. Henry Anderson, vice president and manager of engineering for the Pulp and Paper Division of Chas. T. Main, Inc., Engineers, Boston, has been appointed chairman of the Process Engineering Committee of the Engineering Division of TAPPI, the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry.

TAPPI, with 23,000 members in more than 70 countries, is the world's largest professional association of engineers, scientists and managers serving the pulp, paper, converting and allied industries.

TAPPI's Process Engineering Committee researches and disseminates information on process design as it relates to the manufacture of pulp, paper and allied products.

A member of TAPPI for the past 30 years, Anderson joined the Process Engineering Committee in 1970. He has contributed his leadership and technical expertise as committee secretary, vice chairman and most recently, as program chairman.

Anderson earned an Associate Bachelor of Science degree from Northeastern University, Boston, and is a registered professional engineer in several states. Since joining Chas. T. Main, Inc. in 1950 as a junior engineer, he has been promoted to project engineer, project manager and vice president. He assumed his present responsibilities in 1971. Anderson is an Andover resident.

Abbie Hoffman To Appear At Merrimack

Abbie Hoffman, often referred to as America's leading dissident, will speak at the S. Peter Volpe Sports Complex at Merrimack on Wednesday, Feb. 29, at 8 p.m.

Trained as a clinical psychologist at Brandeis and Berkeley, Hoffman dropped out of the profession in the early 60s to join the civil rights movement. As a field secretary for the Student Non-Violent Committee, he worked on voter registration drives in the rural areas of the Deep South. In 1966 he moved to New York's Lower East Side where he organized street people and hippies.

Active in the anti-Vietnam War movement since 1964, he formed the Youth International Party, the Yippies, as an attempt to politically activate the counter-culture and in turn all American youth. Demonstrations outside the Democratic convention in 1968 brought Hoffman to national prominence and made him a number one target of Nixon repression. In the Chicago Conspiracy Trial, called by the ACLU the most important political trial of this century, he shocked the nation by bringing his guerrilla theater tactics and mockery of unjust authority into the courtroom.

In 1973 he was arrested for cocaine possession and fled underground. He spent seven years as a fugitive; the first years in Central America and Mexico. In 1978 he was living in the St. Lawrence River in northern New York when the Army Corps of Engineers proposed a project that would have destroyed the beautiful 1000 Island region. Under an assumed name and facing a life sentence, he managed to organize a successful three-year battle to defeat the proposal. Without realizing his identity, the Governor of New York and Senator Patrick Moynihan publicly praised his leadership. He then returned to New York City and ended up serving a year prison term on a reduced charge.

He was released last spring and has been speaking cross-country to capacity crowds. He has returned to live as his underground identity, Barry Freed, battling the transportation of nuclear wastes in his local community.

Hoffman has written seven books. His latest, "Square Dancing in the Ice Age," has just been published. His determination to change American society has earned him 26,000 pages of FBI files and 42 arrests.

Advance tickets are available at the Merrimack College library.

Seafood

The extension home economics department at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute, in connection with the Gloucester Fishermen's Museum, will conduct a three-part seafood seminar beginning March 12 at 7:30 p.m.

The seminar will cover the history of fishing and the ocean as a last great resource of food. Methods for preserving fish will be discussed and participants will learn how to fillet.

Other topics will include a demonstration by an internationally known chef on preparing fresh fish entrees and a sommelier will discuss wines to use with fish.

For details, call Helen Early, extension home economist at the school.

Boston Boy Choir

Boy Choir To Perform At Merrimack College

The Boston Boy Choir will perform in concert in the Collegiate Church of Christ the Teacher at Merrimack College on Sunday, March 4, at 7 p.m.

The concert is open to the public at no admission charge.

The concert will include a program of choral and instrumental music by the Boston Boy Choir with assistance from St. Paul's Men's Schola and boys handbell choir.

The Boston Boy Choir, formally known as The Boston Archdiocesan Choir School, was founded in 1963 and is in residence at St. Paul's Church in Cambridge. The pupils range in age from 10 to 14 and receive full academic training in addition to an extensive musical education.

The choir has toured extensively in recent years, performing throughout New England, in New York, New Jersey, Florida, Wisconsin, Maine, Rhode Island and abroad in Italy, France, England and Ireland. They have taken part in Youth Concerts at Symphony Hall and sung with the Harvard-Radcliffe Choral Society and the M.I.T. Choral Society. They have also sung with the Boston Symphony Orchestra at Symphony Hall and Tanglewood and Carnegie Hall in New York. Under the direction of John Williams they sang with the Boston Pops Orchestra and the Tanglewood Festival Chorus in the Christmas 1982 Pops program. They have made recordings with the B.S.O. under Columbia, Philips and Deutsche Gramophon labels.

Host Families Sought

"Share!", a new high-school exchange program which brings qualified students from many foreign countries for one school year or one semester has begun its campaign to reach host families in Massachusetts. The program is sponsored by the State Department-designated Educational Resource Development Trust.

Gertrude Nixon, 10 Gloucester Avenue, Gloucester 01930 is the local area representative.

Students from Brazil, Argentina, Spain, Germany, Italy, Sweden, Norway, Ecuador, the Philippines, Japan, Belgium and the Netherlands are already waiting and other countries will be included shortly. Families may specify a boy or girl and indicate which country they prefer. Families with small or grown children, as well as those with teenagers, are welcome to participate in this program.

Families should be aware that students may have religious beliefs different from theirs, but this does not imply that discussions of religious life cannot be held; they should, however, be shared in an atmosphere of mutual respect," Nixon stated.

The only financial requirement is that host families provide meals and shelter. Transportation, school expenses and spending, as well as health and liability insurance, are furnished by the student. Host families are permitted by the I.R.S. to deduct $50 from their taxable incomes per month and school districts receive state support for these students.

For further information, contact Mrs. Nixon.

Student Violinist In Recital

The music department of Phillips Academy will present Peter Eliopoulos, a senior at the academy, in recital at Graves Hall on Saturday, Feb. 25, at 8 p.m.

The young violinist began his studies nine years ago and studied with Alan Hawryluk in Salem before coming to Andover. He participated in the North Shore Philharmonic Orchestra, All State and District Orchestras where he met William Thomas, chairman of music at Phillips Academy. Peter attended the Summer Chamber Music Program at Andover in 1980 and later enrolled in the regular session.

He currently studies with Mimi Bravar at Andover and is co-concertmaster of the orchestra and co-president of the Chamber Music Society. In the summer of 1983 he participated in the Boston University Tanglewood Young Artists Instrumental Program.

The program will include works of Beethoven, Mozart and Fritz Kreisler. The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

Awards Presented Pack 71

Cub Scout Pack 71 held its monthly pack meeting at West Elementary School on January 27.

The theme for the month was survival and each of the dens gave a demonstration on the techniques they had learned. Den 2 won the knot tying relay race.

The Wolf award was given to Andy Kriz and Randy Gummon and Showman. Citizen and a gold arrow was presented to Marcus Delorich. A big welcome to Jason Lommer, Needham, who just joined the pack.

Plans for next month include the annual Blue and Gold banquet.

Hypnosis To Be Discussed

Jeff Hansis will speak on "Hypnosis — A Natural Way to Self Improvement" at the Feb. 28 meeting of the College Club of Greater Lawrence at the Lawrence Savings Bank, Shawsheen Square, Andover.

Hansis, advertising account executive of the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune and professional hypnotist, will explore the history of hypnosis, its importance in expanding mind power and its relation to motivation, self-esteem and relaxation.

The meeting will start with coffee and dessert at 7:45 p.m. and include a raffle for a gift certificate at Justin's to benefit the scholarship fund.

Chamber Music Recital At Academy

There will be a Chamber Music recital at Graves Hall, Phillips Academy, on Friday, Feb. 24, at 8 p.m.

The program will feature music for piano, violin and cello and will include Beethoven's Trio in E-flat Major, Op. 70 and Felix Mendelssohn's Trio in d minor, Op. 49. Frank Powdermaker will perform on violin, William Thomas on cello and Christopher Walter on piano.

Powdermaker is a graduate of the Juilliard School where he studied with Dorothy Delay. He also studied with Marylou Speaker, Nathan Milstein and David Nadien. He was a prizewinner in three international competitions and has performed in many of the major music festivals and centers in the U.S., Europe and South America.

Thomas received his B.M. degree from Oberlin Conservatory and M.F.A. from Pennsylvania State University, studying with Richard Kapuscinski and Pierre Fournier. He has performed in orchestral and chamber groups in the U.S. and Europe and is chairman of the music department at Phillips Academy.

Walter, who is also a Phillips Academy faculty member, received his M.A. degree from Queens' College, Oxford University and A.R.C.M. from the Royal College in London.

Pvt. Faro Completes Training

Army Reserve Pvt. Dean C. Faro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Faro, 5 Belmont St., North Andover, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training. The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapon infantryman as well as an indirect-fire crewman.

The first airplane to officially exceed the speed of sound was the Bell X-1, flown October 14, 1947, by Major Charles E. Yeager.

Shiny, healthy, carefree and looking wonderful describes the haircuts I design. A combination of your hair texture and facial features determines what new sleek, blunt line is right for you. I'll even take you a step further. If you are unhappy with your hair texture, I'll perm it thicker. If you are unhappy with your color, I'll light up your hair with a foiling.

Condition is important to us and we use the best possible products. A finished design should always "look shiny and feel healthy."

I am a creative designer, certainly not right for everyone. But if you want something a little funky or very sleek and new, I'm the haircutter for you.

"Joseph"

Joseph's brothers kick up their heels in the song-and-dance number "One More Angel in Heaven" in the Broadway musical "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat", coming to the J. Everett Collins Performing Arts Center.

Broadway's "Joseph" Comes To Andover

The Broadway production of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" will come to Andover's J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts for one night only, Tuesday, March 13, at 8 p.m.

Direct from a sell-out Broadway run, "Joseph" has been hailed by many critics as the best Tim Rice-Lloyd Webber show yet. This bubbly musical romp has been called a far more likeable musical with a broader appeal than both Rice-Webber hits "Evita" and "Jesus Christ Superstar."

"Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" tells the story of Joseph, favorite son of Jacob and interpreter of Pharoah's dreams. It is set amidst the river Nile, pyramids and palaces of exotic ancient Egypt.

Group discounts are available. Tickets may be ordered by calling the box office or sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Andover Endowment for the Arts, P.O. Box 3039, Shawsheen Station, Andover, MA 01810. Due to the expected popularity of the production, theatre-goers are encouraged to order tickets promptly.

The Collins Center box office is open daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tickets are also available at the Andover Savings Bank, Main Street, and "Just For You," 36 Main St., Andover.

Boy Choir In Concert At Church

The music department of the Parish of Christ Church, Central Street, Andover, will offer a concert by the internationally acclaimed St. Mary's Boychoir from St. Mary's County, Maryland, on Wednesday, Feb. 29, at 7:30 p.m. in the parish hall of the church. This free concert will be open to the public.

The choir, part of the St. Mary's Boychoir School, is comprised of children who form a touring choir that brought rave reviews from music critics in metropolitan areas where they have sung.

They are on a concert tour, partially sponsored by the State Department, of the eastern coastal states and the Maritime Provinces of Canada.

The choir made its New York debut in 1980 at Lincoln Center's Avery Fisher Hall and at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. They were asked to give a private presidential performance at the White House Christmas 1982. Leonard Bernstein referred to them as "the beautiful voices of the St. Mary's Boychoir" and critics have said "they have voices like diamonds clear, brilliant and full of light," "...excellent pitch sense, considerable breath control, exceptionally high standards of musical aptitude and performance."

The 18 boys are under the direction of Brahmachari Keith, author, composer, concert pianist and founder of the choir school in 1977. Keith has studied throughout the world, conducting at the Mozarteum in Austria, was artist in residence at the Columbus Boychoir School and director of the Offertorium Musicun of Washington, D.C., and the St. Mary's Opera Workshop in Maryland.

St. Mary's Boy Choir

The choir will sing Giovanni Battista Pergolesi's "Stabat Mater," a major work for treble choir and soloists; Gabriel Faure's "Cantique de Jean Racine," Debussy's "Mandoline," "Simple Gifts" by Aaron Copland, two humorous works by Arthur Frackenpohl and the popular "Roses of the South" and "Tales of the Vienna Woods" by Johann Strauss Jr.

Insurance Meeting

The Middlesex Chapter of the Massachusetts Association of Insurance Women, Inc. will hold a meeting March 5 at the 99 Restaurant, Middlesex Turnpike, Billerica, with social hour from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. and dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Arbitration Training

The Better Business Bureau of Merrimack Valley is looking for volunteers willing to serve as arbitrators in disputes between consumers and business on product problems, service complaints and home improvement problems, etc.

All BBB arbitration cases are conducted in accordance with federal regulations and the Uniform Arbitration Act, a state law and under the rules of the Better Business Bureau. Arbitrators are selected by the parties, consumer and business to settle disputes. Arbitrators set their own time and date for hearings, can inspect the problem directly, if they wish, and all decisions are binding unless the parties agree otherwise.

A training seminar for arbitrators will be conducted by a National BB Arbitration specialist and the BBB Merrimack Valley on Thursday, March 15, at 7 p.m. at the Merrimack Valley Motor Inn, Route 125, North Andover.

Arbitrators are asked to take only one case a year to participate in the program and an Arbitration Training Certificate will be awarded to all participants.

Anyone interested in becoming a volunteer arbitrator should call the BBB Merrimack Valley in Lawrence, Haverhill or Lowell.

Planning Antiques Show

From left, Millie Davison, president of the Ballard Vale United Church Women's Guild, and show co-chairmen Helen Webb and Ruth Mattheson discuss plans for the guild's annual antiques exhibit and sale.

Church Guild Planning Annual Antiques Sale

The 16th Annual Andover-Ballardvale Antiques Exhibit and Sale, sponsored by the Women's Guild of the Ballard Vale United Church, is in the final stages of preparation.

Donna and Irv Bluestein, directors of the show, and co-chairpersons Helen Webb and Ruth Mattheson of the Women's Guild, have been working to make it a show of the highest quality.

The Andover-Ballardvale Antiques Show is considered one of the most popular and well-attended shows of the early spring season. Furniture, both formal and country, glassware, china, silver, antique jewelry, lamps, clocks, woodenware, pewter, tools, pottery and many hard-to-find heirlooms will be featured and offered for sale.

The Women's Guild, noted for their home cooking, will offer homemade soups and chowders, luncheon specials and unusual pies and desserts.

The show opens Friday, Feb. 24, at 11 a.m. and runs to 6 p.m. and continues on Saturday, Feb. 25, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Ballard Vale United Church is located on the corner of Clark Road and Hall Avenue. Ample parking is available and tickets will be on sale at the door. Children under 12 will be admitted free when accompanied by an adult.

Gov. Dukakis, Mayor Flynn To Speak At Suffolk

Gov. Michael S. Dukakis and Boston Mayor Raymond L. Flynn head an imposing list of leaders from business, government and education who will participate in Suffolk University's two-day Lowell Lecture Series February 29 and March 1 in the Suffolk University Auditorium, 55 Temple St., Beacon Hill, Boston.

The program, entitled "Massachusetts in a World Economy: Opportunities, Cooperation and Challenge," will start at 1 p.m. on both days.

Suffolk University President Daniel H. Perlman will welcome the participants and introduce Governor Dukakis at the Feb. 29 program. The program, sponsored by Suffolk University under a grant from the Lowell Institute, is open to the public at no charge.

"International Trade: Opportunities for Growth" will feature Anthony Mirabito, associate professor of law at Suffolk University Law School, as speaker and State Senator Royal L. Bolling, Sr. of Boston and State Representatives Argeo P. Cellucci of Hudson and Lucille P. Hicks of Wayland as discussants. Jane Ives, assistant professor of management at Suffolk University's School of Management, will serve as moderator.

Robert Kuttner, editor of "The New Republic" will head a panel, "The Export of Jobs: Non-Linear Thinking," with discussants Sandra Graham, state representative from Cambridge, Paul Grogan, director of the Boston Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency, and State Representative Thomas J. Vallely of Boston. Dr. Frances Burke, professor of public management at Suffolk University School of Management, will be moderator.

A discussion, "An Industrial Policy for Massachusetts: Do We Need It?" with a talk by Howard Foley, president of the Massachusetts High Tech Council, and discussion group of Boston City Councilor Bruce Bolling, State Sen. President William M. Bulger and State Senator Philip L. Shea of Lowell will be presented in the afternoon. Dr. David Tuerck, chairman of Suffolk University's economics department, will be moderator.

President Perlman will introduce Mayor Flynn on March 1.

George Kariotis, chairman of the board of Alpha Industries, will speak on "A Massachusetts Technology Park: A Model for Cooperation" with discussants Speaker of the House Thomas W. McGee, State Senator Gerard D'Amico of Worcester and State Representative Timothy A. Bassett of Lynn. Jane Sjogren, professor of economics at Wellesley, will speak on "Incentives to Encourage Private Investment in the Educational Enterprise." Discussants will be State Senator Robert C. Buell of Boxford, State Representative Doris Bunte of Boston, James G. Collins of Amherst and City Councilor Joseph Tierney of Boston. Associate Dean Herbert Lemelman of Suffolk University Law School will be moderator.

"A Matter of Literacy" will feature speaker Jeanne Chall, professor of education and director of the reading laboratory at Harvard University's Graduate School of Education. The panelists will be Thomas M. Gallagher, state representative from Allston, State Representative Joan M. Menard of Somerset and Rita Walsh-Tomasini, president of the Boston School Committee. Dr. Joseph McCarthy, professor of education at Suffolk University, will moderate.

For further information, contact Dr. Diane T. Rudnick, executive assistant to the president at Suffolk University, Boston.

The Religious Community

FEBRUARY 23, 1984

Institute
Offers New Program

After months of research, the staff of the Charisma Institute has customized a program of individualized education and training in a well-integrated and comprehensive study of decision-making and communicating.

In one of its core courses, "On Community," each lecturer will present and have a discussion period of his/her own viewpoint of "how people should treat each other in the community." The speakers include Maurice Schwartz, president of the Lawrence Bar Association; Dorothy Winn, director of the Andover Council on Aging; Al Fortier of Morality in the Media; Joan Cohen of the Andover Jewish Fellowship; Rev. Roger Sawtelle, president of the N.A.A.C.P. Lawrence chapter and his wife, Carolyn; Marcia Hohn of the Greater Lawrence Business and Professional Women's Association; Maureen Schwab, president of the National Organization of Women (Andover); Kathleen Calagy of the Association of University Women; and Joyce Robinson from the League of Women Voters (Andover).

The four-week basic course includes "Problem Solving Process," which considers issues, facts and norms in the process of making decisions; "Research Skills" which teaches the skills used to search out and interpret information; and "Communication Skills," which deals with the transmittal and reception of messages among persons, groups and organizations.

The elective courses, open to the public, include "Stages of Spiritual Growth," showing how a person can grow spiritually strong; "Interpreting the Media," which examines the interpretation of religious topics by the media; "The Code of Canon Law" discusses the laws of the Roman Catholic Church; "Bible Study"; "Religious Foundations of Andover" exploring the edifying religious origins of Andover; "First Amendment Religion Clause" discussing religious freedom in the U.S. Constitution; "Special Writing Seminar" and "Directed Study," a specially arranged course for students who are interested in deepening their knowledge of a particular subject.

The Charisma Institute has retreats, open to the public. Readings are carefully selected, presentations are dynamic but to the point, the mood of the meditation period is Franciscan and the liturgy and other prayers are in keeping with the mind of the church. The atmosphere is quiet and relaxing, refreshing and invigorating.

To enroll in the program as a full-time student, to take a single elective course, go on a retreat or help in another way, write to the Charisma Institute, P.O. Box 263, Andover 01810.

Before you pay your taxes for 1983 one of the most logical deductions you can make is to open a BayBanks IRA. You can contribute up to $2,000, and deduct that contribution on your 1983 Federal income tax return. So you'll pay less in Federal taxes. And your earnings are tax deferred until retirement when you may be in a lower tax bracket.

Better still, BayBanks offers you a full range of investment alternatives. From variable or fixed rate time deposits to our new Brokerage IRA, which allows you to invest in securities and manage your own retirement funds.

You can even use our free IRA worksheet to see how much a BayBanks IRA can save you in Federal income taxes. Just visit any of our more than 200 BayBanks offices. Or call the BayBanks Hotline 1-800-342-8888.

Symphony Concert

The Reading Symphony Orchestra will hold a midwinter concert Sunday, March 11, at 3:30 p.m. at the Reading High School auditorium in Reading.

The program will open with the Overture to the Marriage of Figaro and end with Beethoven's Seventh Symphony.

Tickets will be available at the door with special rates for senior citizens and students.

Wildlife Program

The Massachusetts Audubon Society will present a slide tape program on endangered species and non-game wildlife of Massachusetts at 7:30 p.m. at the Endicott Regional Center, 346 Grapevine Road, Wenham, on March 1.

Cleti Cervoni, Massachusetts Audubon Society's regional educator on the North Shore, will present the program and explain how a new check-off box on your 1983 Massachusetts Tax Form can put your tax refund to work for non-game wildlife.

Obituaries

Joseph C. Kearns

Joseph C. Kearns of 145-A Exchange St., Lawrence, died Feb. 19 at Lawrence General Hospital. He was 91.

Mr. Kearns was born in White Haven, Penn., and came to Lawrence as a young man. He worked as a wool sorter for the Larry Eaton Company of Boston. He later worked as a wool sorter in local woolen mills, until his retirement.

The widower of Mary (Simmons) Kearns and Irene (Roddy) Kearns, he leaves one son, Joseph C. Kern of Lawrence; one daughter, Rita (Mrs. Harold) Haller of Andover; three stepdaughters, Elizabeth Pare, Irene Klier and Marilyn Wormald of Lawrence; and a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass was offered Wednesday morning at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Immaculate Conception Cemetery. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Emmert Funeral Home, 93 East Haverhill St., Lawrence.

Harriet C. Benedict

Harriet C. (Chase) Benedict of Providence, R.I., died Feb. 14 in Providence. She was 81.

Born in Providence and a lifelong resident of the city, Mrs. Benedict was the wife of the late G. Grenville Benedict, who was dean of Phillips Academy in Andover for 25 years, until he retired in the early 1970s. Mrs. Benedict, who married the late dean after his retirement from Phillips, worked as a real estate broker until her retirement.

She leaves one stepson, George Benedict of San Francisco; two stepdaughters, Mrs. John Ferguson of New York and Jane B. Radosevic of California; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at St. Martin's Episcopal Church, Providentown. Cremation followed the service, and burial will be in the spring in a Phillips Academy cemetery in Andover.

Stop Smoking Program

The Andover Department of Community Services and the Regional Health Center in Wilmington are co-sponsoring a Stop Smoking program beginning Monday, Feb. 27, at the high school from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. for four weeks. A follow-up meeting will be scheduled two weeks after the completion of the program.

The program will use the American Lung Association 20-day self-help method to help participants to quit smoking. The success rate depends on personal commitment to quitting and the responsibility assumed for life and health. There are no magic formulas. This program offers a supportive environment and learning experience to enable participants to stop smoking. Homework is required every day during the 20-day period, in the form of reading and written exercises.

Raytheon Earnings Are Less

Raytheon Company reported 1983 earnings of $300.1 million, or $3.55 per share, compared with $318.8 million, or $3.78 per share, in 1982. Sales for the year were $5.937 billion versus $5.513 billion in the prior year.

The company's government electronics systems business was particularly strong and continued to grow in both sales and earnings. The major appliance group comprising the Amana, Caloric and Speed Queen subsidiaries also performed very well with increases of 25 percent in sales and earnings more than double the prior year.

The Beech Aircraft subsidiary reported higher sales during the year due to higher deliveries of military training aircraft. But, significant research and development costs for a new turboprop business aircraft and a 19-passenger commuter that was certified late in the year held earnings significantly below 1982 levels. The energy services area finished the year with substantially lower earnings reflecting depressed demand for petroleum-based services worldwide.

At year end Raytheon's total backlog stood at $6.116 billion compared with $6.350 billion at the end of 1982. The U.S. Government-funded portion of the backlog reached a record $3.792 billion compared with $3.178 billion a year earlier.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Round seven of the Commodity Foods Distribution Program will take place Tuesday, Feb. 28, from noon to 4 p.m. at the Andover Senior Center in the new Andover Municipal Center. The Senior Center is located in the east wing (Whittier Street side) of the former East Junior High School.

Andover senior citizens age 60 and older who have pre-registered will be eligible for five pounds of cheese, two pounds of butter and four pounds of non-fat dried milk. Eligible residents who have not pre-registered may pick up their commodity food stuffs on Tuesday, Feb. 28, at the City of Lawrence Vocational School, 201 Haverhill St., Lawrence, from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

In the event of a storm which closes

Andover schools, the distribution will take place on Wednesday, Feb. 29.

The Andover Elder Affairs Newsletter was recently mailed to all Andover residents age 60 and older. This newsletter, which includes information on programs and services available to Andover residents is published monthly by the Council on Aging. The Council on Aging receives no money for this newsletter from the municipal budget. The newsletter is printed through advertisers' fees and private donations. A fund-raising raffle, featuring lovely handcrafted items, is being conducted to support the newsletter. Tickets are on sale at the Senior Center. The drawing will take place Monday, March 26, at the Election Day luncheon.

Speaking of luncheons, tickets are on sale for two celebrations to be held at the Senior Center. Saturday, March 17, is the date of a St. Patrick's party that's sure to bring you the "luck o' the Irish." Enjoy a dinner of corned beef and cabbage, followed by entertainment to make the evening a delight.

Monday, March 26, is election day in Andover. The Council on Aging has planned a luncheon featuring a hot and cold buffet, entertainment and transportation to the polls. Tickets for both events are on sale at the Senior Center.

While at the center, don't forget to purchase your tickets for upcoming day trips which include the Flower Show, Stars of Lawrence Welk, 42nd Street, shopping at Copley Place and more.

You Can't Take It With You

"You Can't Take It With You," the academy-award-winning comedy, will be shown February 24 at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library. Starring Jean Arthur, Lionel Barrymore and James Stewart, this film is the second in the library's Friday evening series of plays made into movies. All showings are free and open to the public.

Great Books Discuss
Aristotle

The Great Books Discussion Group will hold their next meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p.m. to discuss "Politics," Books I and III, by Aristotle. Newcomers are invited to attend at any time.

Children's Room News
By Bridget Bennett

The last program in the winter Saturday Afternoon Films Series will be shown Saturday, Feb. 25, at 2 p.m. Featured films will be "High Rise Donkey," the hilarious adventures of three children who volunteer to babysit for a donkey in their parents' apartment, and "Peter and the Wolf," animated by Walt Disney. All 7-12 year olds are invited to this hour-long program.

No Reply To Superintendent's Invitation to Washington, D.C.

By Sue Aucella Deacon

One month after he issued "an unusual invitation" to the secretary of education in Washington, D.C., Andover School Superintendent Kenneth Seifert is still waiting for a reply.

Secretary of Education Terrel H. Bell has not responded to Seifert's invitation to visit Andover High School this spring and take the tests Andover students take, the superintendent said this week.

Seifert has had some indication from Secretary Bell's office that the government official is too busy to visit Andover, the superintendent said, but he has yet to receive a formal reply to his letter.

Last month, the superintendent wrote to Bell about "the educational concerns that permeate our country today," admitting that he was "very much aware of the shortcomings of public school education practices."

But not all the problems confronting America's youth are "inside the schoolhouse walls," he wrote, describing a long litany of the country's woes.

"Marijuana is now one of America's ten leading cash crops ... Bingo has become the national mass for many Catholics, Protestants and Jews ... A grown man who bounces a ball makes a million dollars a year while productive workers are unemployed by the thousands ... Child abuse societies are growing like mushrooms ... Our children live in constant fear there might not be a future."

His point, Seifert told the secretary, was that despite problems inside and outside the schoolhouse, some students are achieving ... and "the productive educator is getting a little tired of the one-sided picture being presented."

The superintendent described Andover's educational picture for Secretary Bell. S.A.T. scores, above the national average, that have "steadily improved" during the last decade; achievement test scores in the top ten percent in national rankings; graduation requirements that "exceed most national recommendations."

And the town "spends no more or no less than the average per pupil cost for the State of Massachusetts," he maintained, pointing out that Andover has closed schools and reduced school staff to keep costs down.

"I am astounded at other governmental agencies who feel the streets are paved with gold," Seifert wrote.

His recommendation to Secretary Bell: "I believe you should construct a model of what a good school system should achieve and then find out how many are at, above, or below the model ... I suggest your department spend more time in finding the people who are achieving."

Confident that Andover schools are among the achievers, the superintendent invited Bell to visit Andover High in May or June to "take the tests our students do" and "give us your honest opinion of our standards."

"I am very proud of the staff and students in the Andover School System," Seifert concluded. "We really would like to see you in June."

A Letter from the President

One of President Reagan's newest fans is, unfortunately for the president, a bit too young to vote. Fourteen-year-old Billy Flynn, a Bancroft School special needs student, recently wrote to Mr. Reagan, inviting him to visit Bancroft, where Billy serves as a tour guide. (The letter was inspired by a homework writing assignment.) Last week, the president replied — and even though Mr. Reagan declined his invitation, the student was honored to receive the letter, along with a full-color portrait of the president on horseback. Billy, the son of Alice and John Flynn of Tamys Lane, says he plans to have the presidential letter framed and hung in the family room.

Industry Dominates List of Andover's Top Ten Taxpayers

Andover's top ten taxpayers for the current fiscal year include seven industries, according to the assessors, as industry's percentage of the town's total valuation has risen by nearly two percent since fiscal 1983.

Industrial taxpayers paid 15.12 percent of Andover's total taxes during fiscal '83, with industrial property assessed at a total $149,374,700. But with industrial property currently assessed at a total $175,546,600, industry is now paying 17.10 of the town's taxes.

At the same time, the residential share of the tax burden has decreased by a similar percentage — more than two percent, from 74.25 to 72.15 percent. The total value of residential property, however, has increased from $733,554,000 in the last fiscal year to a current $740,900,900.

There has been little change in the percentage of taxes paid by the other two types of property, commercial and open space.

Commercial property accounted for 9.55 of the town's taxes last year (with the total assessment at about $94 million), and accounts for 9.87 percent this year (with a total assessment of about $101 million).

Open space was assessed at $10.6 million and accounted for 1.08 percent of last year's taxes; it is assessed at $9 million and accounts for .88 percent of this year's taxes.

Who are Andover's top ten taxpayers? The first is Raytheon Co. and Endrock Associates, paying $944,463.70. Raytheon property is assessed at more than $46 million.

Followed by Digital Equipment Corp. taxed $528,127.15 on property assessed at nearly $26 million; Hewlett Packard Corp. taxed at $498,539.50, assessed at more than $24 million; Gillette Co., taxed at $403,880.75, assessed at more than $19 million.

And GCA and American Property, taxed at $258,794.05, assessed at nearly $13 million; and Cressey-Dockham, taxed at $253,287.75, assessed at more than $12 million.

The three non-industrial high taxpayers are next: Massachusetts Electric Co., taxed at $189,518.40 on personal property assessed at more than $9 million, plus $15,081.85 on property assessed at $735,700; Phillips Academy, taxed at $5,168.05 on personal property assessed at $252,100, plus $196,992.80 on property assessed at more than $9 million; and Andover Country Club developer Cormier-Andover, taxed $2,050 on personal property assessed at $100,000, plus $170,047.50 on property assessed at more than $8 million.

Rounding out the list is industrial taxpayer Prudential Insurance Co. of America, paying taxes of $160,752.80 on property valued at nearly $8 million.

The total value of all property in Andover is assessed at $1,026,794,700, up from $987,902,700 in fiscal 1983.

Planning Calendar For The Wedding

As soon as you have decided on a wedding date, you should check with the church, synagogue, hotel or other place where you plan to have the ceremony - and also the site for the reception - to see if that date is available.

Some couples have been known to plan a year in advance to secure a particular date and site, especially during the popular months of June, September and October.

A formal wedding takes several months to plan. This suggested list is based on the time necessary to plan and prepare for a large wedding. Those planning simpler weddings or shorter notice should also find the list helpful.

Six Months Before

Discuss the wedding budget with your parents. If expenses are to be shared with your fiancé's family, include them, too. Even if costs are not going to be divided, it's a good beginning to talk about the wedding style with everyone.

If you have not decided where the ceremony and reception will be held, do it now. When the date is set, it is a good time for both bride and bridegroom to meet with the clergyman, minister or rabbi.

Decide on the number of guests to be accommodated at the reception and reserve the site. Select a caterer, if necessary.

Decide on the number of attendants.

Make a guest list.

Shop for your wedding gown and accessories. Order the gown, if necessary. (Keep in mind you will need the gown at least one month before the wedding date if you are planning to sit for a bridal portrait.)

Shop with bridesmaids for their gowns and accessories.

Look for an apartment or new residence and shop for furniture.

Select china, crystal, silver, etc., and register in your favorite store.

Make honeymoon plans and reservations. If you plan to travel outside the country, make arrangements for passports, visas and inoculations.

Three Months Before

Order invitations, announcements and other stationery needed for thank-you notes, allowing three to four weeks for delivery.

Pick up the envelopes in advance and address them.

Discuss the wedding color scheme with the mothers so their dresses will be coordinated in color and length.

Confirm the delivery date for your wedding gown and attendants' dresses. Male attendants should make arrangements for their attire, especially if suits must be rented.

Shop for a trousseau.

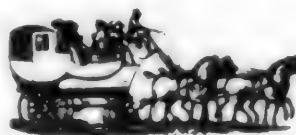

Select the wedding rings - allow time for engraving.

Make an appointment for a bridal portrait. Hire a wedding

A Bridal Registry Keeps Gift Giving In Order

When the bride opens her wedding gifts, she may be delighted with one silver gray ladle—but five may be a bit much.

Avoid the embarrassment of giving the bride a gift she may not need or of selecting patterns of silver or china she does not like.

It's as simple as checking with area stores which maintain a bridal registry to find out her preferences. Today's bride usually selects her silver flatware first. Even if you can only afford one serving piece or a spoon or two they will be happily received by the bride.

The bride's china pattern may be available in the newer three-piece place settings as well as the traditional five-piece setting. Consider coordinating or matching serving pieces such as oven-to-table-to-dishwasher items and china accessories for gourmet cooking, tatletop cooking and casual entertaining.

Once you have reviewed the bride's choices on her bridal registry, you may wish to select other items for the home that go with her taste, room clocks, candlesticks and so on.

Are the bride and groom gourmet cooks, wine experts or lovers of the unique? You'll find accessories they will welcome at her favorite jeweler. And keep in mind the heirloom potential of any silver wedding gift.

Bring the beauty and simplicity of Old New England to your home!

Guidelines To Selecting Music For The Wedding

A line in the popular "Wedding Song" says, "Whenever two or more of you are gathered in his name, there is love."

There is also music.

No wedding is complete without it, but to have it meaningful to the couple, it takes a little advance planning and ingenuity.

Here are some other guidelines and suggestions to make every wedding and its reception truly special.

If the wedding is to be performed in a religious setting, consult with clergy or the church music director to determine what types of music are allowed. Many churches, inspired by contemporary services, are eager to accommodate personal music choices.

Resist the temptation to use musical selections just because you like them. No matter how beautiful or entertaining, if the song diverts attention from the ceremony, don't consider it.

When choosing a vocal piece, evaluate the lyrics. Do they say what you want to be said?

Invite friends who can sing or play musical instruments well to participate. Often, the more personalized you make the ceremony, the more meaningful it will be for everyone.

Position musicians and singers near the front and to the side of the pulpit where they can be heard without upstaging the bridal pair.

Many contemporary brides are choosing to stand at the head of the aisle while a special song is played, joining the groom as the song comes to an end.

Deciding Whether The Ceremony Should Be Formal Or Not

Who or what decides if the wedding is to be formal, semi-formal or informal?

Those decisions are usually up to the bride and are often determined by the choice of gown that she wears and the site of the ceremony

If she wears a long gown with a train, the ceremony is definitely formal. If the bride elects to wear only a veil with her gown, the ceremony can be considered to be semi-formal.

If the wedding is formal, what does the bridegroom wear?

In the daytime, a cutaway coat and striped trousers. However, in some contemporary weddings the groom will wear a white tuxedo, but traditionalists hold out for the gray cutaway.

For a contemporary evening formal ceremony, the groom may wear a black or white full dress (tailcoat) while the traditionalist will wear the classic white and tails.

If the wedding is semi-formal, what does the bridegroom wear?

For a traditional daytime wedding, a gray stroller with striped trousers.

For a contemporary daytime wedding, a tuxedo of his choice or an updated stroller.

For a traditional evening ceremony, a black tuxedo or a white dinner jacket. For a contemporary evening wedding, a tuxedo of his choice.

What do the ushers wear?

In a traditional ceremony, the same as the groom with the exception of the boutonniere which in the groom's case should be a sprig of lily-of-the valley from the bride's bouquet.

In a contemporary wedding, the ushers may dress "a step down" from the groom, i.e. if the groom wears a tailcoat, the groomsmen may wear a short coat.

What do the fathers of the bride and groom wear?

The same rules apply to the fathers as to the ushers.

Does the groom give a present to the bride?

As a rule, the gift of the wedding ring is considered to be sufficient. However, there is no rule against offering her a further token of devotion.

Does the groom give a gift to any of the wedding members?

Yes. Some small gift should be made to the ushers. Dress studs, cuff links, pocket jewelry or the like is appropriate. Those gifts serve as mementos of the occasion.

Who provides the bride's bouquet?

The groom buys his bride's bouquet and also the usher's

Flowers An Integral Part Of Wedding Ceremony

Since ancient times when bunches of herbs were carried by brides under their veils, flowers have been an integral part of the wedding ceremony.

Traditionally, they were symbols of fertility, however many flowers also have significances all their own.

The rose is a symbol of love, the orchid of beauty and the carnation of distinction. The white daisy symbolizes innocence and the orange blossom, purity and loveliness. Blue violets symbolize faithfulness and the blue bell, constancy.

Forget-me-nots mean true love, lily of the valley, happiness. The white lilac is a symbol of youthful innocence, red chrysanthemums of sharing and the gardenia of joy.

Experts suggest that you consult a florist at least one month in advance and decide on colors and price. Also, make sure you find out what flowers will be in season, since these will cost less.

Don't forget flowers for the mother of the bride and the groom's mother, boutonnieres for the men, bouquets for any female attendants and flowers for the altar and reception hall.

Best Man Has Plenty Of Responsibilities

The best man at a wedding has plenty to keep him busy. He must keep things going smoothly during the ceremony until after the newlyweds are off for their honeymoon. He also has some duties before the wedding.

During the ceremony he should:

- Help the groom dress.
- Get from him the clergyman's fee (in a white envelope) which should be turned over to the clergyman in the vestry before the ceremony.
- Keep the wedding ring until it is needed.
- Assist the wedding party in getting to the reception.
- Make the first toast to the bride and groom at the reception and read any telegrams which may have arrived.
- Dance with the bride after she's danced with her new father-in-law, then dance with the mothers of the bride and groom.

Help the groom change into his travel clothes and make certain that he has all the necessary passports, tickets, reservations, cash, charge cards, travelers' checks, keys, etc.

- Put the newlyweds' luggage into the car.
- Return any rented apparel.
- And send the bride's parents a telegram—in the groom's name—thanking them for the reception.

Before the wedding day, the best man should:

- Arrange for the bachelor dinner.
- Pick up the groom's gifts to the ushers.
- Help the groom plan the honeymoon trip by making phone calls, picking up tickets and handling reservations.
- Keep important documents in a safe place.
- Arrange hotel rooms for attendants and special guests.
- Pick up the wedding rings.
- Be responsible for taking the marriage license to the wedding rehearsal.
- Help the groom pack and send any pieces of luggage ahead to the honeymoon location, if necessary.
- Make sure the ushers have transportation to the church and know what time they should be there.

Keeping The Brilliance Of A Diamond Ring

Here are four ways to keep your diamond ring clean and brilliant:

Place the ring in a sudsy solution of warm water and mild household detergent. Brush the ring with an eyebrow brush, then rinse under warm running water. Use a lintless cloth to pat dry.

Soak your ring for about 30 minutes in a cup half filled with cold water and half filled with ammonia. Using an eyebrow brush, tap around the back and front of the mounting. Swish the ring in the solution once again before letting it drain on a tissue.

Dip your ring in a brand name liquid jewelry cleaner, but do not touch the diamond with your fingers. Handle jewelry by its edges.

Machines are available which can clean your ring in a solution of water and detergent.

Here are some other ways to make your ring last.

Don't wear it when doing rough work. Diamonds can chip.

Don't wear it when doing cleaning or laundry. Bleach can discolor the mounting.

Have your jeweler check and clean your ring each year.

When you're not wearing it, keep the ring in a jewel case.

The White Diamond

Why is so much white associated with weddings?

The bridal white tradition has evolved gradually through the centuries and still reigns supreme.

The white diamond has been associated with romance since early Greek times. In fact, the very word diamond comes from the Greek "adamass" meaning unconquerable. The Greeks believed that the fire in a white diamond reflected the constant flame of love.

Today, four-out-of-five brides in the United States walk down the aisle with a lovely white diamond on the fourth finger, left hand.

Cultured Pearls Add Glowing Touch To Bridal Attire

A strand of cultured pearls adds a glowing touch to bridal attire. Brilliantly rich cultured pearls enhance the radiant bride's beauty on her wedding day as they always all a lustrous focal point to her outfit whenever they are worn.

In the future, the shimmering strand of cultured pearls may be loaned to a soon-to-be-wed sister, niece or cousin who appreciate the thoughtfulness for something "old" and "borrowed" to complete her wedding attire.

Cherished for centuries, the precious pearl has been woven into numerous tales regarding its everlasting beauty and value.

The ancient Greeks believed that Aphrodite, the goddess of love and beauty, was born like a pearl out of a shell that was washed up from the sea. According to Roman mythology, Venus, the goddess of love, was born in a similar fashion.

In the East, the pearl represented love, gentleness, purity and compassion—a tradition carried into every part of the civilized world.

At one time pearls were the exclusive privilege of the noble and wealthy. Julius Caesar invaded Britain in order to obtain a treasure of pearls, according to the Roman historian, Suetonius. After the invasion, Caesar presented a breast plate, set in pink pearls from the Conway River in Wales, to the goddess Venus Genetrix in her temple in Rome.

Throughout history royal women decorated themselves in pearls. Queen Nephretete of Egypt went to her wedding practically covered with pearls. Elizabeth I entwined pearls in her hair, wore them as necklaces and had them embroidered into her robes.

If you don't already own cultured pearl jewelry, why not purchase a strand of cultured pearls for your dreamed-about wedding day? Consider the neckline of the bridal gown when choosing an appropriate style:

High, round necklines can be adorned with either multiple strand "dog collars" or the classic single strand choker.

The most formal look would be a matinee or opera length necklace falling softly over the bosom; this style is equally alluring with a high-standing collar.

Deeper, scooped necklines are most luxurious with a bib of several strands of pearls falling from the base of the throat to the top of the gown's neckline.

For a final touch, wear a delicate pair of cultured pearl earrings or, if you sleeves permit, a simple single or double strand cultured pearl bracelet.

Choose A Caterer Early

Professional caterers recommend that you choose a caterer as early as possible during the planning of your wedding—just as soon as you've decided on a setting for the reception and a budget.

The time of day your wedding is to be held can help determine the menu for your reception:

Light foods such as salads, quiches and crepes are suitable for morning weddings.

For an early afternoon wedding, salads, seafood and chicken are appropriate, along with small rolls and fruit.

Later in the afternoon, finger foods are preferable, such as tea sandwiches and cold meats or salmon and rolls.

Early evening receptions lend themselves to buffets of sliced meats and salads, with a special dish (chicken or veal, perhaps) as a highlight.

And for evening receptions, you might choose a formal dinner or hors d'oeuvres and champagne.

Pearls

No matter what your final selection may be, you can be certain that your time-honored cultured pearls will be the perfect choice in jewelry for your wedding day and all the days to come.

A Guide To Tipping

When calculating the price of a wedding, don't overlook a small, but significant, cost—tipping.

If tips have not been included into the overall cost of the wedding, the bride's father could find himself scrambling for cash on the wedding day.

Of course, the less extravagant the wedding ceremony, the fewer the tips.

Following is a list from "Your Complete Wedding Planner" by Marjabelle Young Stewart (David McKay Company, Inc.) of those who are tipped, the amount they receive and who pays them:

- The caterer, hotel or club banquet manager and the bridal consultant receive 1 to 5 percent, but only if special services are offered. The reception host adds any special payment to the bill when he pays it.

- All servers, including waiters, waitresses, bartenders and table captains, receive 15 percent, plus 1 to 5 percent for captains if their fee is not included in the total bill. The reception host adds gratuities to the bill when he pays it.

- Powder and coat room attendants are tipped 50 cents per guest or a flat fee agreed on beforehand. The reception host adds a flat fee to the bill when he pays or he tips attendants immediately after the reception.

The florist, photographer, baker and musicians receive one to 15 percent only if special services are performed. The limousine driver is tipped 15 percent.

Civil ceremony officials such as judges, justices of the peace and city clerks are paid a flat fee, usually $10 is the minimum, but check first to see if the official is allowed to accept money. The bridegroom pays via the best man after the ceremony.

- Clergymen receive a donation based on the time he has spent and the size of the ceremony. The bridegroom pays through his best man.

- Ceremony assistants such as altar boys and organists are paid from $5 to $25; the wedding host pays them directly after the wedding service. Check with the clergyman to see if the church cost covers the fee.

Planning The Honeymoon

What advice does "Bride's" magazine have for the couple planning a honeymoon?

- Be honest with each other. How do you both really want to spend your honeymoon? Hiking? Shopping? Or just lazing away on a beach?

- Make your plans early. You'll have a better chance of getting exactly the space at the time you want instead of being disappointed or having to pay more, because the rooms in your price range are all taken.

- Take advantage of timing with night-flight savings, week-day, excursion and special fares on land and in the air. And be sure to investigate off-season travel too. Write to airline tour departments, hotel chain headquarters and individual resorts for brochures, rate sheets and honeymoon package details.

Tipping

- If the reception is in the church, ask the church secretary what custodians and kitchen help should be paid.

Acknowledging The Gifts

Every bride loves to receive her wedding gifts, and it is her duty to personally acknowledge each and every gift she receives.

It is best to write your thank-you notes as each gift arrives to avoid last-minute confusion. It is essential to keep a record of gifts and who sent them as a reminder of what you received.

Etiquette sets certain guides for your thank-you notes. Traditionally, though addressed only to the wife, the husband should be mentioned in the body of the note.

Make each note sincere and grateful. Notes may be brief, but must be interesting. Include, if possible, some personal reference; specifically mention the gift and how you expect to use it. And be sure to include your bridegroom's name.

Acknowledgement of a check should preferably refer to the article you purchased or plan to purchase with the money. Notes are signed "Affectionately," "Sincerely," or "Love," as the case may be, and your signature includes your surname, unless you know the person well.

In the case of duplicate gifts, write each thank you as if it were the only one received.

And if you don't know what the item is, there are many ways to tactfully thank the giver without revealing your bewilderment.

Retaining Bridal Beauty

Don't let honeymoon travel, excitement, sun and lack of sleep play havoc with your glowing bridal beauty.

Here are some tips that can help you retain your radiant look all during the honeymoon:

- Sunburn is the classic honeymoon horror. Take along a sunscreen that's even stronger than you normally use, and if you're in a tropical climate stay out of the midday sun altogether.

- Once your skin gets a rosy glow, you probably won't need any makeup at all for daytime. If you'll be swimming and want to use mascara, be sure to choose a water-resistant type.

- For fun on gala evenings, go glamorous with eye makeup. Just a little will make a big change if your normal look is natural. Try smokey blue or plum shadow blended up and out from the onto the browbone and a spot of highlighter on the inner corners and under the brow. If you like, draw a line in a darker right at the lashes; add mascara.

- Have a good haircut two weeks before the wedding so that your hair dries right into shape.

- Get enough sleep to avoid dark circles under your eyes. If circles do appear, dab on a little cover-stick or cream, dot a drop of foundation over it and blend with a sponge.

For a "Go-Go" shake, combine a small banana 1/4 cup smooth peanut butter, 1/2 pint vanilla ice-cream and a cup of milk. Whirl in a blender until smooth. Serves two.

Some Suggestions For A Bridal Shower

Setting up a new home is fun, but it can be expensive, too. To give a bride a head start, host a housewares shower.

You could theme the shower toward a particular room such as kitchen or bath, or let guests choose gifts for throughout the home. Whether you're hosting or attending a shower these practical gift ideas are sure to please the bride-to-be.

For the kitchen: A good basic cookbook will come in handy in any home. Or gadgets like a whisk, wooden spoons and a spatula spreader can be packaged nicely in a cutlery tray for a thoughtful gift.

For the laundry: A durable laundry basket filled with necessary cleaning supplies is a functional present that will help brighten wash day. Tie a big bow around the basket and include a set of hand towels for an added treat.

For storage: No matter how much or little space a new bride may have, good organization always makes life a little easier.

For the table: Once newlyweds settle in, their attention turns to entertaining. Serving trays, a lovely crystal water pitcher or a matching ceramic creamer and sugar bowl make nice presents a couple will enjoy showing off.

The next time you're considering a bridal shower theme (or are invited to a shower) remember... a practical gift that can be used frequently will be appreciated.

Whether it is to be a simple ceremony
or a grand affair,
we have the experience,
sensitivity and service,
you are looking for.

Bridal Headdress Is A Mix Of Varied Customs

When a bride is considering what to wear on her wedding day, the question of what to place on her head is one her most difficult decisions.

Today's bride may not realize that whatever type of head-dress she chooses, she will be representing a mix of tradition and origins throughout the world.

During the late 1800's in the United States, the type of veil or hat worn was determined largely by her role in society.

Veils and wreaths were a part of the bridal wardrobe almost exclusively in the early 1800's, while hats grew more fashionable later on.

The importance of the headdress was so great that, according to photos from that period, more money may have been spent on the headpieces than on the dress itself.

Veils varied greatly in the expense and quality of the lace used, with machine made lace becoming more popular in the 20th century.

The late 1800s also brought a unique style of veil: divided down the front, off center, as if to resemble curtains.

Using a wreath to hold the veil in place was a fashionable variant with orange blossoms and jasmine used most frequently for floral decorations.

Many well-preserved Victorian and Edwardian wreaths were constructed with delicate wax flowers. Silk, cotton materials were also popular alternatives for the floral wreath.

In other countries, a variety of colors, fabrics, textures, and even precious jewels were used for the bridal crown, or headdress.

An interesting interpretation comes from Hungarian folklore, which says the bridecrown or coronet signifies that the bride is indeed queen for the day, with an unquestionable right to her crown.

In the Ormanysag country of Baranya, Hungary, the bride wore a hood of bright red artificial flowers, covered largely with pearls, silver dangles, and paillettes. Fluttering king streamers of ribbon were apparent with every step.

The customs of bright and ornate wedding styles began in the Scandinavian countries.

In Norway, a wedding was always an occasion to display special finery. In the case of the Norwegian headdress, the bride had her choice of two distinctly different styles of crowns.

Even today, the Norwegian bride still has two crowns from which to choose the 'church' crown with its virgin significance, and more ordinary crown.

The church crown dates back to the early Christian days and was used largely as a protest against lax morality.

The crown is decorated with silver and gilt, chains and dangles which shine and jingle as the bride moves. It may be worn only in a church ceremony, and is placed on the bride's head by the minister's wife.

The more ordinary crown is worn in any other ceremony, and is far more simple designed of myrtle or colored paper with gold leaf ornaments.

In Finland, the popular headdress was a combination of two crowns from Norway. It is a large crown constructed with colored paper and artificial flowers.

The famous Voss bridal crown is made of silver with hanging jewels. Often the bride's hair did not match the lustre of the crown, so a wig of fine gold thread was used.

Today's brides more closely follow the traditional Swedish bride. She would wear a headdress made of a piece of fine linen.

Meant to frame the face, a small circle at the back of the head is made of wood, covered with linen coming up over the head, pleated and fan-shaped.

Wealth also played a large role in bridal crowns of Dutch women. A wealthy woman marrying into equal wealth would wear a crown of silver adorned with jewels, while the less fortunate bride would wear a coronet of pasteboard with embroidered silk.

An interesting note interjected here would be the unknown origin of the English veil.

During the reign of George III, both wreath and veil fell completely out of vogue, only to be replaced by the unveiled face, which was considered to be more striking and natural.

In 1766, European Jews were made to dress more simply discarding their jewels and fancy clothes in an effort to retain their heritage. The one exception to this self-imposed dress code was for the bride, whose headdress was made of gold or silver and wrapped with flowers.

On a final note, the historic tradition of Polish weddings had an entirely different twist, with the men wearing the most elaborate costumes. Their hats were decorated with floral sprays, and their coats and trousers were elaborately embroidered and rich with leather finery.

Examining The Condos

It would appear that the lure to town meeting may be the issue of condominium development once again.

It is a subject addressed by prior annual and special sessions, and the result has been the same: The town has refused to accord new multi-unit dwellings in the community.

There is considerable time before the issue is addressed by the annual exercise in democracy known as town meeting this year, and with that latitude, it is suggested that the town's planners and residents alike address the matter of condominium development in a serious manner.

One of the prime considerations in the past presentations has been the aesthetic issue, as well as what effect the condo development would have on town services.

While the point is valid, and one which should be considered, there are some other motivating influences to peruse before rendering a decision on whether or not the town should have such development.

Among the more serious considerations is whether or not affordable housing is available in Andover.

It is recalled here that the late William Stewart, who served on the board of selectmen for several years under the new town manager charter, had had a primary concern during his tenure about the young people of Andover being able to afford to continue to reside here.

And, while his point is indeed as valid a consideration today as it was then, certainly one must also consider whether older, life-long residents, now on fixed incomes in retirement years, may be able to continue to maintain an Andover address.

And, there are others with income limitations who would like to maintain their Andover affiliation, but are unable to due to the price tag on many of the Andover homes offered for sale.

These are the people whose needs must be addressed, and whose requirements could possibly be met with proper and adequate condominium developments, done tastefully and offering an opportunity to a particular segment of our society who would find them satisfying the desire to continue to be Andover residents.

No doubt in the ensuing weeks the development and planning department will be examining the condominium issue once again, with an eye toward meeting rigid Andover building standards, space limitations and probably the aesthetics of such a proposal.

That is a good omen for the town.

But, frankly, both the planners and the town should probably go a step further and get a bit personal in their considerations. They should examine how well the young and the senior citizens, whose income is limited, are going to be able to continue to reside in the community they have so much enjoyed over these many years.

Then, probably, working with proposed developers, they could present a proposal to town meeting to provide at last a multi-unit, single-ownership development for Andover.

Something the town has rejected in the past, but now is an apparent necessity.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — February 1909

The annual town meeting for 1909 is over and the result is a splendid victory for conservatism and good sense. The election part of the day was less exciting than it frequently is and considering the good weather the vote was light. In the contests, Selectman Bailey again demonstrated his vote getting ability and wins another three years term. Mr. Gould was a lucky man.

A distinguished citizen of North Andover has "gotten his" with a vengeance. For many years, he has abused the friendship of many men and been found antagonistic to many people. He now finds as a candidate for town clerk, that memories are long, and there will be few among the vast numbers of people who know the machinations of North Andover politics, of which he has been such a large part, who will not have considerable satisfaction over his retirement from official life.

News from around Essex county: The alleged drinking of liquor and smoking of cigars at recent social functions of students of the Newburyport high school is to be investigated by the sub-committee.

50 Years Ago — February 1934

A total budget amounting to $590,161 involving an estimated tax rate of $27.50 on the thousand has been approved by the finance committee, according to a report made public this week. The total is $65,000 in round figures higher than last year, but it is not a record amount, the appropriations being much higher in 1926 and 1930 and slightly higher in 1929 and 1931.

Andover is still trying to dig itself out of the worst snow storm in years. Since early Tuesday morning some 300 men have been employed night and day by the Board of Public Works in what will probably be one of the most expensive storms that the town has encountered in recent years. All available plows and every available truck in town were pressed into service removing the snow from the highways, while hand labor had to be used to shovel off the snow on the sidewalks after the usually dependable horses had proved unable to cope with the heavily packed snow.

Edward Whiting, former Boston newspaper columnist and now a political writer for Worcester and Springfield papers, gave a very interesting general talk on "current events" at the meeting of the November club Monday afternoon. In his talk he spoke of the Austrian crisis, the Japanese and Russian situations, the president's attitude toward the Monroe doctrine, and the present status of the Republican party.

25 Years Ago — February 1959

The Personnel Board has approved a 2½ percent wage increase, and has given its approval "in principle" to the ballot question of the town paying half of health, medical and life insurance premiums for its employees. At a meeting Tuesday night, the Board gave its final blessing to the increase.

Many political observers this week are literally flipping coins, as they try to predict the outcome of the election Monday. Tight contests have developed in some of the campaigns for Selectmen, while the School Committee race is also tense. But on one fact, most observers agree — Sidney P. White has a decided edge in his efforts to gain re-election to the three-year term on the Board of Selectmen.

After careful consideration of the needs of all town departments, the Finance Committee has unanimously recommended the addition of a wing to the west on the Memorial Hall Library. This expansion, although providing only a part of the space asked for in the warrant, will give immediate relief to the Children's Room.

10 Years Ago — February 1974

The Andover Police Department now has its full complement of officers, as soon as civil service issues approval of the promotion of Sgt. Lloyd Belbin to lieutenant. Belbin's promotion provides the department with three lieutenants and will allow a lieutenant and sergeant to be in charge of the day and early night shifts. The organizational structure of the department was set up by Police Chief David L. Nicoll and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin two years ago.

Andover's new elderly housing project scheduled for construction on North Main Street is facing further disturbing delays due to illness of the architect Chairman Thomas P. Eldred of the Andover Housing Authority reported Wednesday that he has been in contact with state housing board officials seeking a determination of what the status of the $1,600,000 project is at present.

The path of the proposed sewer line to the Hewlett-Packard plant in the West Andover Industrial area had a little tough sledding at a state Department of Public Works hearing Tuesday afternoon. Karl Haartz presented opposition to the plan and also a landowner, Roland Langlois, at the hearing before officials of the Division of Waterways of the DPW. The hearing was to determine if the construction of the sewer line will in any way disturb the course of the Merrimack River.

The Public Forum

Agreement On Shawsheen

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I was pleased to see that some parents in Andover took the time to air their views about the last School Committee meeting. I am referring to the letter to the editor written by Kirstin Clarke. I agree wholeheartedly with Mrs. Clarke on all points. I would like to add that my main complaint is that the School Committee did not publicly address the problems nor answer the questions presented to them by Maryanne Richards, in letter form, at the February 7 meeting. It certainly did seem that a decision was made prior to the meeting and no amount of protest or plea from parents would have altered that decision.

I can understand the School Committee being upset by Susan Poore's comments to the press basically because Dr. Seifert and the School Committee members do not like someone rocking the boat. However, this is the land of freedom of speech and I can only state that I, for one, am extremely proud of Mrs. Poore for speaking out for what she believes. She did not buckle under pressure from the other committee members when her views were considered unpopular with them. I am encouraged to know that Susan Poore will fight for the good of the children as her top priority with no regard to her popularity. I am elated to know that Mrs. Poore does not want to play politics with our children's future. She has my vote of confidence.

Marie DeMarco
4 Franklin Avenue

The Cookies Are Here

Thanks to neighbors' generosity, the Girl Scouts in Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council were able to sell more than 600,000 boxes of cookies this year. Those cookies, with help from United Way, will help lots of Girl Scouts from all over northeastern Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire to enjoy camp, friends, learning new skills and all kinds of fun.

Girl Scouts are delivering the cookies ordered a few weeks ago.

Cheers For Mrs. Poore

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Three cheers for Susan Poore, a truly dedicated School Committee member. I voted for Mrs. Poore as a selectman and I'll vote for her when she runs again for her School Committee post. It is reassuring to know we have at least one School Committee member who has the true interest of the community's children in mind when voting on issues of major consequence.

Three cheers also to Bill Doherty who hoped the town would retain the original name of Putnam to the converted junior high building.

I graduated from Punchard High and needless to say, cannot even visualize another name being put on that nostalgic building.

The "old Theatre Building" holds dear and precious memories. It is a good, solid structure and why a new group of individuals see a need to tear it down is beyond my comprehension.

What has happened to sound, responsible leadership in this town?

Jan Wetterberg

WEEKLY SPECIAL

U.S. intelligence agencies have no pipeline to the KremlinBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — U.S. intelligence analysts are scrambling to figure out what effect the change in Soviet leadership will have on world peace, but they have been hampered by a lack of information about the Kremlin's activities.

We have studied more than 50 secret documents assessing the Soviet leadership and can report that U.S. intelligence agencies have no pipelines into the Politburo, no informants who can tell the analysts what is going on behind the grim, fortress-like walls of the Kremlin.

America's best intelligence sources did not know whether Yuri Andropov was dead or alive during his last days. The United States simply gets no human intelligence from inside the Soviet power structure.

But U.S. technological intelligence is the best in the world. The experts are able to intercept messages, break codes and photograph Soviet installations. They are even able to pick up some conversations inside the Kremlin.

It was an intercepted message, in fact, which gave U.S. experts their first hint that Andropov was seriously ill. Our sources told us of his sickness last June and we reported that the CIA was betting that "Andropov will die within a year. That's how bad his health is."

Those same sources now tell us that Andropov's successor, Konstantin Chernenko, is a master of Kremlin paper work but he will not be a dynamic leader. According to one top-secret analysis, Chernenko will be "responsible for seeing to it that Politburo decisions are carried out — that is, as the top civil servant of the Politburo, not as its master."

Chernenko's specialty before he moved into the Kremlin was propaganda and agitation, so he will probably continue the war of words with the United States. But he is a wary, cautious leader who is not likely to go beyond the brink.

There is even a chance, says another top-secret document, that he may "get detente with the United States back on track."

SUGGESTION BOX — The Reagan White House would like to slash funds for the poor, the handicapped and the elderly. We agree that government spending should be cut, but we have a better suggestion how to do it.

The bureaucrats could save billions simply by eliminating waste. We have been keeping a watch on waste for many years and can tell you who throws away the most money. It is the military brass.

The Pentagon could start saving money by cutting out the frills. The Army Corps of Engineers, for example, is spending millions of dollars to beautify a powerhouse. You might think that a powerhouse sitting on top of a dam would be a strictly functional piece of architecture. But the Army Engineers appear determined to make a Taj Mahal out of a powerhouse in Calhoun Falls, S.C.

First, the Army Engineers hired a world-famous architect, Marcel Breuer, to prepare an "architectural concept" for the powerhouse. He set to work with his usual flair and added refinements that brought the estimated price tag for the structure up to $60 million.

Some of the refinements promise to make the building look more like a Hyatt Hotel than an electric generating plant. The plans call for a curved promenade deck covered with glass panels, an overlook terrace, a circular ramp leading down to a fishing deck, and granite flooring blocks with a fish-scale pattern. The fancy flooring alone will cost about $776,000 more than plain old concrete paving blocks.

The purpose of the frills, according to a Pentagon document, is "to attract visitors."

So if you are ever in the neighborhood of Calhoun Falls, S.C., drop in for a look at the Taj Mahal of powerhouses. You paid for it.

POLITICAL POTPOURRI

— Some of our congressional sources are concerned that the U.S. Synthetic Fuels Corp. may become a political arm of the Reagan reelection campaign. Synfuels board member Howard Wilkins is the Midwest finance chairman for the campaign, and several other board members served on the 1980 Reagan transition team. Our sources are worried that companies seeking federal assistance in the search for alternative fuels may catch wind of the board's political leanings and make campaign contributions in hope of receiving favorable consideration.

— Presidential hopeful Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, has criticized Democratic front-runner Walter Mondale for the support he has received from "special interests." The truth is that Glenn has some ties of his own to big business, labor unions and other well-heeled political power brokers. Glenn's financial disclosure reports reveal that he has received $305,000 from political action committees organized by bankers, defense contractors, energy companies and labor unions. This is twice as much PAC money as has been taken in by any of the other candidates who are accepting such funds.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

A microwave oven should either be located near the conventional cooking center or given a mini-center of its own. In case of the latter, consider that microwave units come in both countertop and built-in models. Dimensions vary widely among manufacturers, with depths of 14, 16 and 18 inches and widths of 20, 21, 25 and 27 inches being the most common. In addition to size, consider how the unit's door opens. Some swing open to the side while others open from top to bottom like conventional ovens. If a built-in microwave has been chosen, position it at a comfortable height, generally at eye level. Built-in models also require some space around them for air circulation. Whether built-in or countertop, plan for 15 to 18 inches of counter space adjacent to a microwave oven.

If you seek convenience in your cooking, you should also look for it in your cabinets. There's no sense in adding a modern appliance if you don't have the proper cookware to go with it or the place to store them. Then come to WINDSOR KITCHENS in Ward Hill where we'll show you many styles of cabinets to accommodate your lifestyle. If you need to rearrange your kitchen layout, that's no problem. We enjoy coming up with great ideas for you. You'll find us at 1181 Boston Road ready to help with quality services Mon.-Thurs. 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Fri. 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Sat. 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tel. 372-3444.

Andover Hockey Association

Andover's Squirt A's won three games over the President's Day weekend, warming up for the vacation week Amateur Hockey Association District Playoffs. The winners and runners-up in each of the state's ten districts will meet in the state tournament in April.

Andover 6 - Newburyport 1

Andover's first win of the weekend was over a talented Newburyport squad in a Danvers League game on Saturday. Andover had a 4-0 lead before Newburyport scored its only goal. Sean Darwin scored the first goal midway through the first period on a nice unassisted effort. Defensemen Jonathan Shine, Todd Allard, Peter Arthur and Brian Lane set a close checking pattern in the first period which they carried on throughout the game, completely shutting down Newburyport's offense.

Andover's second period goals were scored nine seconds apart when they were shorthanded, a very unusual feat at any level of hockey. Michael DiStefano scored the first goal on a nice pass from John Melillo and then immediately returned the favor off the ensuing faceoff, sending Melillo in alone for his goal.

The spread increased to 4-0 in nine seconds into the final period when Melillo set up Chris Pothier at the side of the net for another goal. After Newburyport scored on a deflection off an Andover defenseman to spoil the shutout goalie Brian Novelline deserved. Andover scored twice more to account for the final 6-1 score. DiStefano's second goal was set up by Sean Darwin and Kevin Smith's passing while Colin Nix's backhanded goal was the result of an excellent series of passes involving linemates Pothier and Melillo.

Andover 8 - Melrose 3

Andover's second win of the day came in a wide open game on Saturday night at Phillips Academy. Everyone on the roster earned at least one point via a goal or an assist. The offensive outburst made it a rather easy game for goalie Brian Novelline, who came up with the key saves when the game was still close. Goal scorers were John Melillo (2), Kevin Smith (2), Michael DiStefano (2), Colin Nix and defenseman Todd Allard on a high-rising shot from the left point. Assists went to Sean Darwin (3), Jonathan Shine (2), Brian Lane (2), Nix (2), Smith, Peter Arthur and Chris Pothier. The game was a make-up contest and moved Andover into third place in the very tough Wilmington League.

Andover 7 - Wilmington 2

Sunday's victory was very hard earned, drawing six slashing/roughing penalties in the game. Wilmington scored first, three minutes into the contest. The score seemed to inspire Andover more than Wilmington as goalie Brian Novelline proceeded to make two excellent saves and the team suddenly came alive. Chris Pothier scored on a rebound at the 5:30 mark to tie things at 1-1, with linemates John Melillo and Colin Nix picking up assists. Less than two minutes later Sean Darwin scored the first of his three "pure" hat-trick goals to give Andover a 2-1 lead. Michael DiStefano earned an assist. Darwin increased the lead 2-0 later, converting a nice set up from defenseman Todd Allard.

Play went back and forth in the second period with Peter Arthur and Kevin Smith being denied after generating Andover's best chances. Wilmington closed to within one with three minutes left in the period, but Darwin's third goal 30 seconds later, this one unassisted, made it 4-2 entering the final period.

Third-period scorers were Brian Lane on two length-of-the-ice rushes and Chris Pothier on a nice feed from John Melillo. Wilmington's only offensive thrusts in the period were well contained by Andover's defensemen. Jonathan Shine led the way, breaking up several plays before they resulted in shots on net.

St. Augustine's Pulls Out Two-Point Victory

By Rick Harrison

Resurgent St. Augustine's pulled out a come-from-behind two-point victory while undefeated West Parish and once-beaten Temple Emanuel continued their winning ways in Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division (13-15 years) action last week at the Doherty Junior High gym.

St. Augustine's erased a nine-point half-time deficit and overcame a fine individual performance by Billy Dutton to edge St. Robert's A 44-42.

Defending champ West Parish its record to 7-0, trimming St. Robert's B 59-37 for its 20th straight victory.

Temple Emanuel eliminated Ballardvale United from title contention, chalking up a 50-32 victory behind the offensive fireworks of Eric Shenker and Stu Leinson.

The division is taking a break during school vacation week with play scheduled to resume next Tuesday night at Doherty.

St. Augustine's, 44-42

St. Augustine's defeated St. Robert's A for the second straight week, but this one was considerably tougher than the 71-32 romp the previous Tuesday evening.

Billy Dutton, who joined SRA midway through the season and has already projected himself into the top 10 scoring race, was primarily responsible for keeping St. Robert's on top most of the way.

Golden Warriors Capture MVC Crown

By Dan Grams

The Andover High School Golden Warrior boys track team captured the Merrimack Valley Large School Indoor Track Championship with a 59-27 victory over Methuen High School.

The win avenged last year's heartbreaking 47-39 loss to the Rangers and completed a perfect 8-0 (9-0 overall) dual meet season.

The championship marked the first time since 1977 that an Andover boys squad has captured the MVC title.

Andover 59 - Methuen 27

Andover dominated the track meet from start to finish against a strong Methuen Ranger team.

Ian Dowe was the big star, winning two events. Dowe, who is perhaps one of the best shotputters in the state, won the shot with a throw of 53-5 and captured first place in the 50-yard dash.

Andover finished 1-2-3 in both the 50 and 300; Dowe (1st), Zack Apgar (2nd), John Delaney (3rd) in the 50 yard dash and Mark Grams (1st), Peter Comeau (2nd) and Dave Casanave (3rd) in the 300.

Grams' winning time was an impressive 34.8.

Larry Cuddy turned in a fine performance in the 600 in 1:19.5 with freshman Peter Barry finishing third.

Rick Dow (two mile), Rob Salisbury (1000) and John Yezerksi (mile) were first-place finishers.

Dow's victory was outstanding as he defeated one of the better two-milers in Methuen's Chris Cameron.

Keith Driscoll (hurdles), Jony Holbrook (1000), Richard Burke (mile) and Apgar (high jump) took seconds while John Duffy (two mile), Bobby Stabile (hurdles) and Andy Thompson (high jump) rounded out Andover's scoring.

Methuen's Jeff Baker was one of their few bright spots with a double victory in the hurdles and high jump.

The Golden Warriors entered the Northern Area Meet in Beverly slightly handicapped, but still managed to pull off an outstanding performance.

Their hopes for the Northern Area title were dampened when star runner Petr Comeau was injured in gym class on Friday eliminating him from the meet. The running Warriors again rose to the occasion totaling 64 points to give them the Northern Area Track Meet.

There were many outstanding performances as the Golden Warriors set two new school records.

Rick Dow set a new school record in the two-mile with a second-place time of 9:27.0. The mile-relay team of Larry Cuddy, Mark Grams, Zack Apgar and Keith Driscoll set a school record with a winning time of 3:39.8.

Cuddy also grabbed first in the 600 with a time of 1:17.4.

The two-mile relay team of Bob Salisbury, John Duffy, Peter Barry and John Yezerksi placed second as did Ian Dowe (shot) and Grams (300).

Tony Holbrook (fourth in 1000), Driscoll (fifth in hurdles) and Dowe (sixth in 50 dash) also finished in scoring positions.

YMCA Teams Swim To Victories

In a meet last Wednesday against the Phillips Academy JV teams, the Andover-North Andover YMCA swim team took two victories, defeating the girls 112-50 and the boys 101-71.

Jenny Thompson and Michelle Gilbert were triple winners. Gilbert swam on the winning medley relay team with Tracey Pool, Katie Inskkeep and Coleen Hayes. Erika Suduiko, Brenna Cronin, Pam Boucher and Erin Croft were second in the event.

Gregg Morava, Eric Bechick, Aaron Thompson and Tom Jurgen won the men's medley relay with Bill Watt, Brian Cronin, David Flanders and Adam Siegel second.

Thompson's first victory came in the 200 yard freestyle with Inskkeep second and Kate Robb third. Morava placed second in the men's 200 free with Josh Siegel fourth.

Gilbert won the 200 yard I.M. with Danielle Graham second and Brenna Cronin third while Bechick was second for the men with Doug Wayland third and Peter Abidinor fifth.

Teri Bechick won the women's 50 yard freestyle with Mary Robb fourth and Tracey Pool fifth. Aaron Thompson took the men's 50 with Jurgen second and Jeff Hartin fifth.

Suduiko placed second in the diving competition with Hayes third and Stacey Therrien in fifth. Matt MacVicar won the men's diving with J.B. Burgess second and Dan Lennon fourth.

Jenny Thompson was first in the 100 butterfly with Hayes second and Boucher

Girls' Church Teams Fight For Title

By Kim Kupa

The Intermediate girls' division of the Andover Church Basketball League will hold a foul shooting contest Friday, March 9, at the West Elementary School gym from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Engraved trophies will be awarded to the two top scorers.

In the second week of championship play, St. Augustine's A narrowly defeated St. Robert's C 18-15. Ballardvale United slipped past St. Robert's B 15-11 in overtime. St. Robert's A edge ahead of St. Augustine's B 17-13 and Christ Church scored its first win of the season in a 12-9 decision over St. Augustine's C.

St. Augustine's A 18-15

St. Robert's C captured and held the lead for two quarters and locked St. Augustine's in a tie in the third period. The victors exploded in the fourth quarter with two baskets from Diane Hinchey and Susan Garabedian to secure the lead.

St. Robert's was ahead early on because of two baskets from Elizabeth Wrobel and a basket and a pair of free throws from Jacqueline Kupa. Kupa also netted the sole St. Robert's basket in the second quarter to bring the score to 10-8.

Wrobel notched a basket in the third quarter for a game-high total of 8 points and Lisa Bruno, Hinchey and April Williams collected a bucket each for St. Augustine's to tie the score.

Williams shared high scoring honors with Wrobel, sinking 8 points. Hinchey reeled off 6 points, a basket in each of the three final quarters and Bruno and Garabedian each pocketed a basket to complete St. Augustine's offense.

Solid defensive efforts were contributed by Kristen Sullivan, who pulled down rebounds. Debbie Donovan, Colleen Miskell and Tricia Novelline.

Kupa and Wrobel were a lethal 1-2 combination, swishing 14 of the 15 points with Diane Castignoli chipping in the remaining point by converting a free throw.

Defensive standouts were Joanne McNamara, Julie Newman, Gretchen Weitz, Stephanie Kupa and Grace Perry.

Ballardvale United, 15-11

In the second overtime game of the season, Ballardvale slid by St. Robert's B. They dominated the boards in the first three quarters, but St. Robert's broke it open in the fourth with six points.

Ballardvale was ahead at the end of the first quarter by three points due to baskets by Jodi Jangro and Nicole Ricci. St. Robert's held Ballardvale scoreless at the end of the second period and delivered two unanswered points. The roles were reversed in the third and Ballardvale added four points, two each from Jangro and Kim Lowe, leaving the score 10-5.

Shaleen Cassily, pocketing four of her six points, propelled St. Robert's fourth-quarter surge and Lynn Baker added her sole basket.

Kim Nutter and Ricci broke the overtime tie, each swishing a basket. Ricci led the scoring for the winners with 6 points, four in the first quarter, while Jangro hit two baskets and a charity toss and Lowe and Kim Nutter popped in a basket each.

Temple Emanuel Wins Division Title

By She Livermore

Undefeated Temple Emanuel clinched the Blue Division title by defeating St. Augustine's C 40-17 in Intermediate Church Basketball League action last week. St. Robert's F won a close 21-19 decision over Christ Church to move them into the second spot and Christ Church into third. St. Robert's E toppled St. Augustine's B 31-25, putting them in fourth place. St. Augustine's D pulled a 23-19 win over South B in overtime action, and Ballardvale United were victorious over St. Robert's D 19-15.

The Blue Division will hold a foul shooting contest on Monday, March 12, at the West Junior High gymnasium from 6:15 p.m. to 7:15 p.m. Engraved trophies will be awarded to the top two scorers.

St. Augustine's C 17

Temple, which hasn't suffered a loss all season, clinched the league title by overwhelming St. Augustine's C 40-17.

In the first period Temple jumped to a 16-0 lead with Steve Gack contributing six of his night's total of nine points.

St. Augustine's outscored Temple 7-4 in the second period, narrowing the ap Temple dominated the rest of the game, outscoring St. Augustine's 10-5 in both the third and final periods, to keep their record intact.

David Jaye and Mark Leinson tied for top scoring honors for Temple with 10 points apiece. Gack was a close second with 9. Robi Labell and Mike Taylor each chipped in 4. Jay Weiner added 2 and Ben Howard contributed a charity shot.

Mike D'Angelo led St. Augustine's with 5 points. David Blank contributed 4, Jamie D'Angelo chipped in 3. John Lahiff and Ken Harvey added 2 apiece and Ty Fortuna added a charity basket.

St. Robert's F 21 - Christ Church

The score was tied 3-3 at the end of the first period.

St. Robert's outscored Christ Church 6-4 in the second to hold a slim 9-7 lead at the halfway mark.

Christ Church grabbed the lead in the third period with an 8-4 scoring punch, but St. Robert's matched that effort in the finale to prevail 21-19 in a well-played contest between two evenly matched teams.

Kevin Murphy was high marksman for the victors with 8 points. Mark Shwetz came a close second with 6. Mark Green chipped in 4 and Peter Van Olinda added 3.

Mike Hagerty led Christ Church with 10 points. Davey Ahouse and Steve Mollineaux contributed 4 points each and Matt Grant chipped in a charity basket.

St. Robert's E 31

St. Augustine's B 25

St. Augustine's B jumped to a 7-4 lead.

St. Robert's erupted in the second period, outscoring St. Augustine's 14-6, behind the shooting of Jeff Foley and Dan French who tossed in six points apiece, to lead 18-13 at the half.

St. Robert's continued their domination in the third period with a 6-2 scoring punch to up their lead 24-15.

St. Augustine's made a comeback attempt in the final period outscoring St. Robert's 10-7, but it was too late and St. Robert's won 31-25.

Foley was outstanding in his shooting for St. Robert's, netting several outside shots among his total of 18 points, which was high for the night. French added 6. Eric Cinco, ta, Chris Jarek and Andrew Bedell chipped in a basket apiece and Peter Landry took advantage of a charity shot.

St. Robert's C, 14-10

In other action last week, South Church whitewashed St. Robert's A 16-0, Ballardvale United toppled St. Augustine's D 14-4, St. Robert's B eeked out a 12-11 win over St. Robert's D and Temple Emanuel nipped Christ Church 9-8.

St. Augustine's B, with four key players missing from the lineup, gave St. Robert's C all it could handle before succumbing to the superior fire power of the league leaders.

St. Augustine's

Dutton poured through 19 first-half points as SRA grabbed a 26-17 lead and St. Augustine's still trailed 38-31 entering the fourth quarter.

However, Ryan Murphy and Drew Dunn sparked a balanced fourth-period attack from St. Augustine's as the winners made a 13-4 run to pull it out at the buzzer. Paul Davies led eight St. Augustine's players into the scoring column with 12 points while Steve McGettrick contributed 8.

Murphy netted all five of his points in the pivotal final stanza while Shawn Cummins pocketed five third-quarter points.

Dunn tossed through 4 points, all in the fourth period, while Steve Surette and Kyle Murphy added 4 points each.

Phil Kendall swished a pair of free throws and Mike McHale also played well.

Dutton finished with a game-high 26 points. Eric Green added 7. Kaios Ryan 4, Brad Wright and Bruce Taylor 2 each and Dave Lewis a free throw for St. Robert's A.

Tom Sheehan, Bill Martin and Matt Jarek chipped in hustling efforts for SRA.

West Parish, 59-37

First place West Parish withstood another offensive blitz by the Marotta brothers who combined for 30 points as the winners rode a diversive eight-player attack to victory.

WP led 17-11 after one quarter, 24-15 at halftime and 40-26 at the close of the third period.

Larry Aiello paced the West Parish effort with 15 points while Chris Poor returned to the lineup and flipped in 10 points.

Scott Kelly and Mike DiMeo contributed 9 points each. Kurt Nickerson delivered a personal season-high 7 points and Matt Burke pumped through 4 points.

Craig Costanzo and Ted Andry completed the offense with 3 and 2 points, respectively, while hustling defensive performances were turned in by Andry, Kelly, Poor and DiMeo.

Temple Emanuel, 50-32

Temple Emanuel won its sixth game in seven outings, breaking open a tight (36-29) contest with a decisive 14-3 fourth-quarter surge led by Stu Leinson.

Leinson netted 10 points in the period, including 4-of-5 free throws, as Temple steadily pulled away from Ballardvale United.

BU trailed only 12-9 after one quarter, 20-21 at halftime and 36-29 entering the final session.

Eric Shenker emerged as game-high marksman with 25 points, 11 of them in the second quarter and 17 in the opening half.

Leinson flipped through 17 points and Geoff Bolan rounded out the three-pronged attack with 8 points.

Bobby Nutter, Dave Gardner and Mike Mooney added strong efforts.

If these features seem a bit generous to you for a $12,980* German sports sedan, you're right.

Audi When a car comes with no less than 18 standard features and is priced under $13,000, you have to call it a great value.

So it should come as no surprise that the Audi 4000S is the best-selling German sports sedan in America. You can buy in America.

Of course, there are other reasons why Germans are driven to buy the Audi 4000S. Germans demand that a sports sedan accelerate with the spirit of a racing car.

They insist that a sports sedan have a suspension that tames even the roughest road.

And they're absolutely right. And that a sports sedan drive comfortably at over 100 miles per hour on the Autobahn.

Now if you think all that sounds like a lot, you're right. You want to test drive. You're right.

Again, Audi: the art of engineering.

Boston College 49 - Providence 21

Undefeated Boston College downed Providence for their sixth victory of the season. Peter Kannam went on a scoring binge, pouring through 28 points in only 20 minutes of playing time. Dave Manning chipped in 11 points for the winners and Bill Lambers played his usual strong rebounding game along with several blocked shots and 5 points. Tom DeBenedictus, Neil Fater and Mike Tiberii had two points each. Dana Orland was high for Providence with 11 points, his brother, Matt, put in 5, Andy Brent and Jeff Hurley had 2 each and Chris Costa had 1. Jeff Conley and Dave Johnson gave a good effort. Mark and Joel Dodge played well for the winners.

St. Roberts

Perry was game high for the night, leading seven SRC players with 11 points. Willard contributed 5, Chris Landers 4, Jeff third-quarter WP rally that put the four-time defending champs ahead by one entering the final period.

St. Robert's A battled right back, however, with fieldgoals by Todd Musteraid, Eric Hammond and John Mattola clinching the hard-fought win.

Musteraid emerged as team-high scorer for SRA with 6 points. Eric Hammond added 4 and single baskets were notched by Paul Salafia, Mike Talty and Mattola.

Brett Hammond swished a first-period free throw, while Steve Knight and Joe Iarrobino also played well.

Kelly captured game-high point honors with eight for West Parish. Kelley popped in 4 points, Chris Gray 2 and Chris Lane a free throw.

A hand injury to John Glynn didn't help the WP cause.

St. Roberts

South Church, 16-0

Guz Quattlebaum popped in 10 points to lead South Church to a convincing win over St. Robert's A.

Scott Eggert, with four markers, and A.J. Rimas, with a single basket, rounded out the offense for the victors.

Doug Batchelder and Sam Pfeifle were other standouts for South.

Brian Workman, Chris Sintros, Todd Cadagan and Dan Burm turned in strong efforts for SRA.

Ballardvale United, 14-4

Ballardvale United (5-3), still on a late-season roll, gained its fourth win in a row by defeating St. Augustine's D.

Paul Bernardin led the BU attack with 8 points. Rejji Hayes had 4, Lindsey Sweeney 2 while Colin Arsenault and Matt Ely also played well.

Peter Cookson and Shawn McMaster flipped in two points apiece for St. A's while Andrew Paradis and Shane McMaster were defensive stalwarts.

St. Robert's B, 12-11

Tied 6-6 at halftime, St. Robert's B outscored St. Robert's D 6-5 in the third period to capture the close win.

Adam Ferry and Greg Poor powered the three-team offense with 4 points each and Bret Green and David Livingston notched 2 points apiece.

Chris Dziadosz as game-high for the D-squad with 7 points, Jeremy McSorley and Kevin Nazzaro added 2 each while Kristen Ford played well.

Temple Emanuel, 9-8

Temple Emanuel gained their initial win of the season with a nail-biting one-point triumph over Christ Church.

Albert Shenker provided the margin of victory by converting a clutch free throw with seven seconds remaining to play.

Behind 2-0 after one period and leading just 3-2 at the half, TE outscored their rivals 5-0 in the third quarter to take a seemingly safe 8-2 lead into the final stanza.

A 6-1 run by CC in the last two minutes, however, kept the decision in doubt until the end.

Adam Goddess and Brant Firestone shared scoring honors for the victors with 4 points each. Shenker chipped in the important foul shots, while Andrew Leinson and Amy Howard played well.

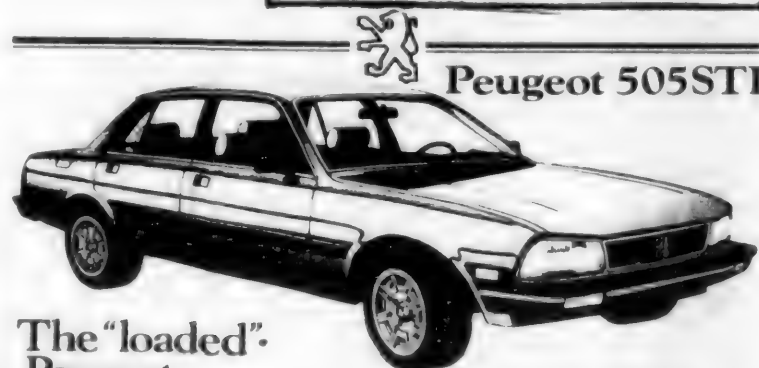

Kery Hagerty had 4 points for Christ Church, Brian Fagan and Steve Corbett flipped in 2 points apiece and staunch defensive efforts came from Ryan Hanson, Nicole Angelo and Ben Russell.

Lawrence Venetian Blind and Aluminum Products

Just think how a patio cover or enclosing your porch or breezeway could double your enjoyment of the warm spring and summer months ahead! Free from bugs, rain and even the scorching summer sun, you'll be able to enjoy the fresh air and cool breezes. Call Lawrence Venetian Blind and Aluminum Products, 191 Mount Vernon St., Lawrence for a host of ideas on how to bring the outdoors in.

Spring is the perfect time to have storm and screen windows installed on your entire house. Enjoy the screens this summer then simply pull down the storm windows in the fall. Lawrence Venetian Blind carries only the finest constructed design combination windows and doors.

Planning to keep cool this summer?

Awnings in both canvas and aluminum can keep the blistering summer sun out yet let the breezes in.

Lawrence Venetian Blind specializes in custom shades and blinds — they're fashionable, practical, durable and energy savers.

Browse through the many sample books for plenty of window decorating possibilities. For example, Levelor Riviera Blinds with the magic wand control come in over 100 great colors to match any decor. There's a wide selection of other fine lines, also.

See Lawrence Venetian Blind's display of vertical blinds, traverse rods and shutters to find the newest in window treatment.

They have everything you need to give your windows that finishing touch.

Rely on Lawrence Venetian Blind to do the complete job, from supplying a varied assortment of top quality products to expertly installing them. And they guarantee all their work. There's 42 years of experience behind that guarantee!

Owner Fred Langer will not only help you with many ideas for decorating your home but will also give you a free estimate.

Call, or even drop by, Lawrence Venetian Blind and Aluminum Products today. Open Mon. Tues., Thurs. and Fri. 8:30-5 and Wed. and Sat. 8:30-noon. Tel. 682-1507.

The famous canal hearing aid

Amore Hearing Consultants Over 30 Years Of Experience

Hearing loss, whether it's a subtle, gradual loss or a sudden one, should be evaluated as soon as possible. If you suspect that you or someone you know may require hearing assistance, schedule a free hearing evaluation immediately with Theresa Manzi Amore of Amore Hearing Consultants, 101 Amesbury St., Lawrence.

After a thorough hearing check-up, Mrs. Amore can evaluate the amount of hearing loss involved and recommend corrective treatment, whether it be medical, acoustical or both.

Hearing loss, not the catastrophe it once was, occurs more frequently than you may think in young and old alike. Today people in all walks of life wear hearing aids. Amore Hearing

Consultant offers the newest in inconspicuous hearing aids: the barely detectable all-in-the-ear canal model as well as the eye glass model and post auricle aids.

Though Amore Hearing carries most major brands of hearing devices, she features Sonotone hearing aids. Amore Hearing Consultant services all makes of hearing aids and carries a complete line of batteries and accessories.

Theresa Manzi Amore is a certified hearing aid audiologist and is also certified by the National Board for Certification of Hearing Instrument Sciences. She'll perform a free hearing test in her 101 Amesbury St., Lawrence office or, if you prefer, in your home.

Mrs. Amore handles children's hearing problems as well as the elderly's. She has tested the hearing of the children at St. Augustine's School for over 26 years.

Current state assistance supplies a hearing aid for any child in the Commonwealth who requires it. Medicaid patients are also welcomed at Amore Hearing.

Amore Hearing Consultant is located at an easily accessible ground level office. This modern professional building is equipped with a convenient ramp for clients with wheelchairs and walkers. Plenty of free parking, too.

Call Amore Hearing Consultants today. Open Mon., Tues., Thurs. and Fri. 9 am-5 pm and Wed. and Sat. 9 am-noon. Tel. 682-4730.

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by George A. Ghiloni and Maria Ghiloni, husband and wife as tenants by the entirety, to Winter Hill Federal Savings and Loan Association, dated April 23, 1963, recorded with Essex North District Deeds in book 983, page 355, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at Public Auction on March 16, 1984 at 11:00 A.M. on the premises, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts, being shown as Lot C on plan entitled, "Plan of Land in Andover, Massachusetts, as Subdivided by Fred E. Cheever" dated August 1, 1952, recorded in Essex North District Registry of Deeds as Plan #2563, and bounded and described as follows:

NORTHWESTERLY by Porter Road as shown on said plan, 133 feet;

NORTHEASTERLY by Lot B as shown on said plan, 277.79 feet;

SOUTHEASTERLY by Lot D as shown on said plan, 285.21 feet;

SOUTHWESTERLY by Spring Grove Road as shown on said plan, 221.77 feet; and WESTERLY by said Spring Grove Road as shown on said plan, 45.84 feet.

Containing according to said plan, 1.30 acres of land more or less.

This conveyance is made subject to restrictions and easements of record, if any, insofar as now in force and applicable.

TERMS OF SALE: Five thousand (5,000) dollars in cash or certified check shall be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Subject to and with the benefit of all restrictions, easements, improvements, outstanding tax titles, municipal or other public taxes, federal and state tax liens, assessments, liens or claims in the nature of liens. Other terms to be announced at the sale.

Telephone Guides In Mail

New England Telephone's 3.4 million residential customers, including about two million in Massachusetts, will soon receive a comprehensive telephone user's guide in the mail.

Mailing of the booklets, which represents the largest one-time mailing project NET has undertaken, began January 19. The booklets are slated to be distributed throughout the company's five-state area by mid-February. It is hoped that customers will retain them for ready reference.

Called "A Guide to Using Your Telephone in 1984," the multi-colored booklet contains an overview of changes in telephone service related to the January 1 court-approved divestiture of AT&T.

In addition to describing new procedures for dealing with NET and options for local and long distance calling within an area code, the new guide contains extensive reference information, including telephone numbers for services ranging from airline information to ski areas in NET's five-state area.

John J. Coleman, NET's vice president in Massachusetts, said, "As our president, Gerry Freche, says in a letter enclosed with the booklets, this guide is a ready source of answers to customers' phone service questions."

He added that the guide informs customers exactly how the break-up affects them. They can see what's changed and what hasn't.

The first half of the guide contains a description of how the telephone system works after divestiture; service and repair reference, summary of basic and optional local and long distance services, section on calling cards, public telephones and area codes and explanation of options such as Touch-Tone service and Three-Way Calling, one of four custom calling services.

For customers whose service and repair questions cannot be answered by the guide, telephone numbers for sources of information are included.

The guide's second half provides phone numbers of local sports arenas, civic centers, state parks and ski areas, listings for transportation and tourist information and arts and entertainment information.

Named Dundee Park Agent

SPT Associates has been named the exclusive leasing agent for Dundee Office Park in Andover, according to Samuel P. Thomas, president of the company.

A renovation project aimed at upgrading two buildings in Dundee Office Park into first-class office, research and development space, is underway this winter.

The buildings, housing more than 130,000 square feet of space, are part of a five-building complex purchased a year ago by Jordan J. Burgess, president of Andover Industries.

The first stage of the construction project is expected to be completed this spring when 80,000 square feet will be available for occupancy.

Architect for the renovation is Donald A. Warner of King Warner Associates, Boston.

According to Warner, plans to update the structures include restoring the buildings' exteriors, replacing existing windows with new double-glazed, operable sash, upgrading entrances and common area and installing new bathrooms.

In addition, the site will be landscaped and the parking lot enlarged.

Built around the turn of the century, the two buildings were originally used for manufacturing and storing cotton products for the J.P. Stevens Company. They currently house a mix of office, warehouse and manufacturing tenants.

The two larger attached buildings have about 104,000 square feet of space spread over three floors and a basement. They have large, arched bay windows framed in brick with granite sills and the interiors have exposed brick walls and wood beams, columns and floors.

TITLE SEARCH

Once a bank has been selected and the financing approved for the purchase of real estate, a title search must be made. This is normally done by counsel selected by the bank.

Because of the unusual nature of real estate, interests and obligations connected with the property may last for a long time. For this reason, a title examination generally involves tracing the changes in the title to the property back 50 or 60 years or more.

Any unreleased claim of a prior owner, or an heir or creditor of a prior owner, is known as a "defect" in the title. If any defects are revealed, the financing may be withdrawn, or the seller may be required to remove the defect.

Once the title search is completed, the examiner submits an abstract (an annotated summary) to your attorney who then determines whether further action is required to remove any defects or whether the title is clear. If the seller can meet his obligation to deliver a clear title, a closing date is scheduled and the process is complete.

good natured
to live.

Those who live at Blanchard Farms enjoy their homes in this quiet rural setting, so close to Routes 495, 2 and 3. Once an orchard and meadowlands, Blanchard Farms is a new community of contemporary, rustic-style homes, with tennis courts, a pool and an adjacent nature preserve. Everyone agrees... living at Blanchard Farms is a natural.

Visit this weekend. Only a few two- and three-bedroom condominiums are still available for winter occupancy. Model office hours, 11-5 daily; (617) 692-3840. Prices begin at $106,000.

Andover Country Club Estates

For those families still seeking the privacy, space and luxury only possible with single family living, Andover Country Club Estates offers the finest real estate investment opportunity available today.

Built on an expansive acre site surrounding the Andover Country Club 18 hole championship golf course, this protected community of 250 homesites has its own private roads, forests, and ponds.

Each home is distinctly different, from traditional to Tudor, and finished to your personal specifications with nine or ten classically appointed rooms including a library, family room, fireplaces, loft play room, two car garage, and all appliances. Top quality workmanship is by Yvon Cormier construction and includes town sewerage and gas lines.

Home of prestigious Phillips Academy, Andover is a vibrant town buzzing with community activity. Over half of all tax dollars support its outstanding public school system. Minutes to both Interstates 495 and 93, an easy thirty minute commute to Boston, and less than one hour's drive to beach and ski areas, Andover Country Club Estates combines the serenity of a natural setting with easy accessibility to metropolitan Boston.

Homes start at $280,000

Visit our model, open daily from 12 to 4 except Tuesday, and receive a solid milk chocolate golf ball, compliments of Andover Country Club Estates.

Zoning

phasize the difference between home day care of less than six and more than six children; the last would change some restrictions on the use of dwellings for home occupations. (It would, for example, prohibit parking more than two non-resident vehicles on the property at one time.)

Those articles may come up for discussion during the selectmen's next meeting, scheduled for Monday night at the town office building.

And the planners will discuss the articles during a public hearing Wednesday night, along with another proposed zoning article that would permit banks to do business in any industrial zone.

Turning to the money articles on the warrant — in addition to a nearly $26 million operating budget for the town and schools — a $6.71 million request to fund a new Riverina Road sewage pumping station tops the list.

Town officials are also seeking $500,000 to expand the water treatment plant (doubling its capacity from 12 million to 24 million gallons per day), and $80,000 to build a new three-million gallon water distribution tank on Wood Hill. Voters will also review a $200,000 request for new water mains in River Road, Fiske Street and Bailey Road, with betterments to be assessed against residents.

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

The annual meeting will also consider appropriating up to $180,000 to complete improvements to the Police Department's communications/dispatch system; $30,000 to build four playing fields at the former landfill site on Chandler Road; and $175,000 to lay sanitary sewer pipes on Lowell Street

Waterhouse lots located between Canterbury Street and Chandler Circle, with betterments to be assessed.

And, as usual, voters will be asked to accept a number of streets as public roadways. The streets up for acceptance this year include Penni Lane, Penacook Place, Apache Avenue, Parthenon Way, Smithshire States Extension, Alonesos Way, Pole Hill Drive, Wabanaki Way, Shawnee Circle, Sioux Circle and Cheyenne Circle.

The Earl Of Sandwich (With Gastronomical Flair) Started It All And We Took It From There!

A brilliant fellow we think the late Earl was, to have invented the sandwich, though his epitaph reads: "Here Lies the Earl of Sandwich, He was All Tummy."

John Montagu, 4th Earl of Sandwich (1718-1792) came up with his namesake so he wouldn't have to leave the gambling table for the dinner table, so the story goes. He died penniless.

If the Earl strolled in for lunch today, chances are he would order one of our super-special Towne Deli 'Clubs'; a side order of steak fries; our famous Cole Slaw; have several complimentary deli pickles and a pitcher of ice cold tap beer. He would certainly congratulate us on our 'gastronomical flair' and we would, no doubt, look the other way if the Earl engaged in a bit of sharpshooting over lunch.

Come in soon for breakfast lunch or supper and enjoy our special Towne Deli 'Gastronomical Flair.' And if you see a shadowy figure who appears to be enjoying a sandwich and playing solitaire, it may be the infamous 4th Earl, himself!

The End

"At Towne Deli, we don't make all the friends we do, serving just deli, alone!"
